FEDERATION PLEASED BY GLENDALE'S GREETING

City's Hospitality Brings Appreciative Remarks From Delegates

The Los Angeles District convention, California Federation of Women's Clubs, today adopted a resolution signifying its approval of the Law Enforcement League committee, headed by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, in its program of upholding the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. The resolution appears elsewhere in today's Glendale Evening News.

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Glendale formally welcomed the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, last night at the second convention session, with Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the hostess club, presiding, and Mayor Spencer Robinson extending greetings for the hostess city.

Marked by gracious hospitality and inspiring camaraderie the evening sped by all too fast, with the clubhouse auditorium crowded to capacity for the program and address by Dr. David Starr Jordan, and the social quarters thronging with delegates and guests later for an informal reception.

In Places of Honor
Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, California Director of the General Federation, who was unable to be present in the afternoon, occupied an honor seat on the platform and greeted the club women with heartfelt appreciation and congratulation on their pledge of the afternoon to more than complete California's pledge of $5000 towards the $100,000 General Federation headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Others on the platform were Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation; Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, past state president and past district president; Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles District; Mayor Spencer Robinson; Mrs. W. E. Mabey, chairman of music for the district; and Mrs. H. R. Boyer of Glendale, accompanist.
Mrs. Campbell presides
Mrs. Campbell was the presiding officer, and never has Glendale seen her more charming. Her delightful wit and natural eloquence were happily combined in her greeting on behalf of the hostess club and in her presentation of Mayor Robinson and the honored guests.
On behalf of Glendale, "The Fastest Growing City in America," Mayor Robinson greeted the convention company, saying: "The fastest growing city in America salutes you and bends the knee in admiration to the cultured and noble women of the federated clubs of the golden west."

The city of Glendale sings aloud once more the praises of the Tuesday Afternoon club, for you made it possible by building this magnificent clubhouse the honor of entertaining the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District, California Federated Women's Clubs.
"The American woman has always mothered innocence, joy and comfort and the American club women will bring to the nations of the world, peace by education."
Expresses Her Pride
In response to the affectionate greeting from her home club and city, given by Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Toll was at a loss to know whether to greet Glendale as an outsider bringing here for convention her great following of club women, or whether to join with the Tuesday Afternoon club and Glendale in receiving the District to their home.
Her first greeting was an outburst, paying tribute to the

OUTLINES PLANS TO AID GERMANY

Report of Dawes Committee Urges Creation of New Bank of Issue

PARIS, April 9.—The world's greatest program for the financial restoration of a temporarily bankrupt nation—the German republic—is outlined in a report presented to the inter-allied reparations commission today by the international committee of reparations experts, headed by General Charles Gates Dawes, of Chicago.
The plan recommends the creation of a new bank of issue, capitalized at 400,000,000,000 gold marks (approximately $100,000,000,000) to act as the allies' chief fiscal agent in Germany; an external loan to assist in the balancing and the restoration of confidence in Germany's financial and economic life; issuance of 2,000,000,000 gold marks preferred shares by the German railways to be sold to the public; an elaborate and detailed plan for balancing the German budget so that Germany can resume reparations payments as soon as the transition period gets fully under way.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 9.—United States Senator Burton K. SUPPORT IS URGED FOR BOULDER PROJECT

Criswell Claims Future of California Depends on Passage of Law

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.

The future of Southern California depends upon the action of Congress in passing or rejecting the Swing-Johnson bill, which provides for the construction of Boulder canyon dam, declared Ralph Criswell, Los Angeles councilman, in an address at the Harvard Street High school auditorium last night.

He appeared at the request of Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president of the Business and Professional Women's club, putting on the program for Community Service. Mr. Criswell has recently spent two months in Washington, D. C. He is thoroughly familiar with the subject, and his talk was listened to with rapt attention by a fair-sized audience.

Dam 600 Feet High
"Briefly stated," said Mr. Criswell, "the Swing-Johnson bill provides for a dam 600 feet high to harness the Colorado river in Boulder Canyon, guarding against a repetition of the disastrous flood in the Imperial valley in 1905, and to provide 600,000 horse-power of hydro-electric energy."

Following the flood of 1905, by appropriation and subscription, $400,000 was raised for a survey of the Colorado river by government engineers, and they recommended to the government that a dam in Boulder Canyon was the most feasible plan for doing away with the flood menace and developing power.
"It is on that recommendation that we are staging our fight. It is a matter of the greatest importance to this entire country. It is national in its scope."

Cost $50,000,000
Mr. Criswell estimated the cost of the dam at $50,000,000, which, he said, would be repaid by the sale of power if the government got back of the project. He stated, however, that the federal power commission, composed of Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of Interior Work were not in favor of having the reclamation service develop Boulder dam, or, in fact, any project of this kind. They favored selling the right to private corporations.
He also favored the building of an all-American canal for the Imperial valley. He pointed out that the canal upon which the Transcontinental telegraph wires will bear endorsement of the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, of nationwide law enforcement to the Women's committee of Law Enforcement, convening tomorrow in Washington, D. C., under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

Such a message was read this morning by Mrs. Charles H. Toll at the convention session and given the unanimous approval of the convention gathering. The telegram reads:
"The Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, numbering 32,000 women, with 800 in convention assembled today, April 9, 1924, send greetings to the Women's Committee of Law Enforcement. We wish to signify our approval of the objects for which the committee was formed and to express the hope that a definite program of action will result from its gathering."

PLEADS FOR SAVING OF WATER

Conservation Policy Urged By Engineer Reagan In C. C. Report

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff.

"The time has come for Los Angeles county to stop talking about flood control and to undertake a program of conservation of the waters that are allowed to run to waste every year," said James W. Reagan, chief engineer of the Los Angeles flood control commission, in addressing the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at their weekly meeting last night.

"The domestic water situation in this country, with the single exception of Glendale, is a serious one, and as the thousands of newcomers settle in Los Angeles county every year the problem is going to become even more serious unless some definite program is adopted for the provision of sufficient domestic water."

"The water plane in this country is steadily lowering, and instead of permitting the rains to find their way to the ocean, we ought to store them up so that they may find their way back to the underground reservoirs and thus furnish a reserve that can be drawn upon to meet the needs of the people."

Flood Menace
Mr. Reagan declared that the work that has been done on the Los Angeles river during the past few years permits the present flood waters to have a clear flow to the sea, without being backed

SUFFERS STROKE IN LONELY HOME

Mrs. Marian Johnson Victim Of Paralysis; Daughter Summoned to Aid

Stricken with paralysis while alone in her home last Sunday, Mrs. Marian Johnson, 435 Hawthorne street, lay in her bed unable to summon assistance, until police forced their way into the house yesterday, and, after ascertaining her precarious condition, enlisted the aid of neighbors in her behalf until the arrival today of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Harris, of San Gabriel.

The fact that there was no movement about the house and that several bottles of milk remained untouched on the porch aroused the suspicions of the neighbors, who informed the police. Lieut. W. J. Royle answered the call and found Mrs. Johnson in her bed in a semi-conscious condition.

Daughter Arrives
Police immediately notified the daughter, Mrs. Harris, in San Gabriel, who arrived in Glendale this morning to care for her mother, who is about 65 years of age.
She was reported this morning as being in a favorable condition.

SENATOR TO CONFER ON CAMPAIGN OUTLOOK

Discouraged Over Series Of Defeats Received From Coolidge

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The "gentleman's agreement" between the United States and Japan has not prevented the entrance of Japanese into this country, Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican of California, declared in the senate this afternoon. He urged the incorporation in the new immigration bill of a provision for the absolute exclusion of Japanese.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senator Hiram Johnson has summoned his campaign managers to a conference Friday for the purpose of determining whether he shall remain actively in the race for the Republican nomination, International News Service learned this afternoon. Johnson called the conference following his defeats by President Coolidge in Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska.

It was understood Senator Johnson will submit to his campaign managers the question of discontinuing his campaign. Among the managers summoned were George K. Bender of Ohio, George Howard Payne of New York, and Paul Verdon of New Jersey.

The senator's recent primary defeats at the hands of President Coolidge throughout the middle west were said to have discouraged him.
At the conference Johnson also will decide whether to continue the race in New Jersey and Ohio, where his name already has been entered. If agreeable to his managers, Johnson probably will make no campaign in either state but merely allow his name to be voted upon because it already has been ordered on the ballots.

Nebraska Results
LINCOLN, Neb., April 9.—Returns from 844 precincts out of 1,938 in Tuesday's primary give Johnson 22,933; Coolidge, 36,873. Frank Corrick, manager for Coolidge, said that on the face of present returns, the president would sweep the state by a 45,000 majority.

Governor Bryan has unquestionably secured the Democratic nomination for governor, while Mathers and McMullen are running neck and neck for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Illinois Returns
CHICAGO, April 9.—President Coolidge had increased his lead over Hiram Johnson to 50,000 on returns from 2,703 precincts out of 5,668 in the state. Coolidge had a total of 252,001, and Johnson 201,399.

The same precincts indicated, on the Democratic ticket, that nominees of the regular ticket were running well ahead of delegates pledged to William G. McAdoo and that Illinois would send an unopposed delegation to the New York convention.

The state's biggest surprise was furnished by the lead taken by Charles S. Deneen, former gov-

CLAIMS PIGEONS CARRYING PLAGUE

Closer Watch on All Birds Is Ordered In Attempt To Halt Spread

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southern News Service
LOS ANGELES, April 10.—Pigeons as carriers of the foot and mouth disease was the latest theory advanced today at the offices of the state department of agriculture. Norman C. Bunn, a field agent from Sacramento, reported that his observations both in the San Leandro district and in Los Angeles county, indicated that birds flying around stock watering tanks were more or less responsible for the outbreak.

Guards will be placed on infected property to keep the birds in flight. Bunn declares that pigeons are the worst offenders, although blackbirds and sea-gulls also may be contributing factors. Three dairy cows at El Segundo do were found infected yesterday and were killed. The owner was an associate of the man who owned an infected herd at Hawthorne, showing that the disease can be carried.

It was announced by the state department of agriculture this morning that guards have been placed on all pasturing plants and all dairy products plants. Strict supervision is being maintained over the food supply. Jay Dutter, director of publicity, today says that the impression has gone forth, because of the closing of Los Angeles packing plants, that there will be a curtailment of the domestic meat supply. He states that is not the case. There is a sufficiency to take care of present needs and other meat is being imported from the east until it is safe to begin butchering locally again.

Professor Flips Coin To Decide His Course

BOSTON, April 9.—Institute of Technology professors and students have a mind of their own in regard to courses, but when errors in the bulletin sent more than sixty men into one room clamoring for two different English courses Prof. Robert E. Rogers of the English department was, as he put it himself, "up a tree."

"How many of you want American literature?" Professor Rogers wanted to know. A show of hands indicated about thirty.

"How many English literature?" The other thirty responded.

Meanwhile the twenty odd seats being filled, groups were perched on windowsills and radiators. Further voting failed to show any decided preference.

"Is there any one here who objects to the element of chance as being a legal?" Professor Rogers asked.

He was offered several coins and not a few dice from the front row.

Perhaps for the sake of looks, perhaps because he knew the ropes better, the professor took a coin, tossed it in the air and the heads of the goddess proclaimed that American literature would be taught.

Meanwhile half the class is to look for another room or another instructor under which to study European writers.

MRS. EVA A. LONG
Mrs. Eva A. Long passed away at her home in Montrose this morning, April 9, 1924, at the age of 56 years.

She leaves to mourn her a husband, Frank Long; two daughters, Mrs. W. E. Wickline of Burbank and Mrs. John Barkard of Cleveland, Ohio; and two sons, George Long of 600 East Palmer avenue, Glendale, and Roy Long of Casa Verdugo.

Birthday Honor

To assist in the celebration of her husband's birthday, Mrs. Galen Davis invited a coterie of congenial friends to their home Monday evening.

A pleasing program of music and dancing furnished the entertainment for the guests, and a late hour refreshments were served.

The rooms of the Davis home had been prettily decorated, and the occasion was with pink and white spring flowers. A beautifully decorated birthday cake with pink candles and around which were arranged pink crepe paper rose petals formed the centerpiece for the refreshment table. The birthday cake was served with ice cream molded into individual pink roses.

Spring Luncheon

Mrs. Grover Adams of 516 West Pioneer drive was hostess yesterday to a number of friends when she entertained with a delightful spring luncheon.

The rooms of the Adams home were attractively decorated with flowers. A low bowl of spring flowers in the pastel shades formed the centerpiece of the luncheon table and dainty place cards in the floral design marked the guests' places.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Frank Miller of Glendale Park, A. Cunningham, H. A. Harrison, J. A. Goltswaite of Glendale and the hosts, Mrs. Grover Adams.

Visits Glendale

An interesting visit in Glendale on Monday was Dr. Calvin H. French, J. D. president of Hastings college of Hastings, Neb., who is touring California and incidentally visiting former students and alumni of that institution in the interests of an endowment fund. Hastings college is a Presbyterian institution, located in the town of radio fame. Hastings having the greatest relay broadcasting station of the middle west. Dr. French called upon Misses Harriet and Ida D. Myers of Central avenue, who are alumnae of Hastings college.

WOMAN, 96, TAKES FLIGHT IN PLANE

Joins Indian Tribe, Realizes Dreams of Girlhood as She Nears Century

CHICAGO, April 9.—Mrs. Margaret MacCartney, 96 years old, of St. Paul, Minn., has had to live nearly 100 years to realize two of her fondest "thrill dreams" of girlhood days.

She wanted to fly as a mortal before taking on those angel wings, and the next greatest thrill, she thought when a little girl, would be her adoption by a tribe of real Indians. And it is a striking coincidence that she never lost these desires of her younger life any more than she did those girlish curls which she wears to this day, just as she did 96 years ago.

If she had been a boy maybe she would have been contented with the ordinary juvenile ambition to become a locomotive engineer or a street car conductor, she says, in some measure of jest, adding, "the female of the race, you know, has been more progressive in the last generation."

Flies with Ruth Law

Ruth Law, famous aviatrix, last summer graduated Grandma MacCartney's desire to ride the air, and a month later the nonagenarian, while climbing the Rocky mountains in Glacier national park, came prominently before the eyes of three Blackfoot Indians. A party of young squaws picking berries on the mountain slopes saw her and they were so amazed by her "agility of age" that they cited her as an Indian woman they had never known as old as she was so fat and indolent they always remained in the tepee lodge, where their activities consisted of the small duties they could perform there in a sedentary way.

Mrs. MacCartney recently got word she is the first white woman adopted into the "Squaw sorority" of the Glacier park tribe of nature's red-faced women. Mrs. MacCartney is so glad her cheeks are naturally rosy, because, she says, her early-day impressions of painted women are so indelible she otherwise would "just have to dye her face to fly."

The early days people used to think none but angels could take a winged journey. I guess, too, it was better that the Indians did not carry me off as a little girl, but waited until I was nearly a hundred years old to adopt me."

Born in Ireland
Mrs. MacCartney was born in the north of Ireland in 1828, and she is Scotch-Irish. She came to America 77 years ago. She lived eleven years in New York and traveled to St. Paul in an ox-cart. She was one of the first persons to travel over James J. Hill's Great Northern railway when it was finished to Seattle. She lived eleven years in Seattle.

Entertain Guests

The members of Mary Jane Gillette tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, had the pleasure of entertaining as their special guests at the meeting last night three department officers: Permelia Daugherty, department president; Martha Jones, department chaplain, and Susie Stubblefield, department treasurer.

The meeting was unusually well attended and considerably business of interest to members only was transacted, with the president, Mrs. Audrey Hall Billingsley, in charge.

The Sons of Veterans have invited the Daughters of Veterans and members of N. P. Banks auxiliary, Sons of Veterans, to attend their meeting Tuesday night, April 15. This will be an informal social meeting.

Mrs. Sheldene of 1253 South Central avenue will be hostess tomorrow, Thursday, April 10, to the members of the Nimble Finger club and friends for their all-day meeting. A hot luncheon will be served at noon.

All Day Meeting

The Ladies' Aid society of the Troop Presbyterian church will hold an all-day meeting and luncheon at the social hall of the church, corner of Laurel and Central avenues, Thursday, April 10, at 10:30 a. m. Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock. Mrs. U. Denham and Miss Margaret Brown are the hostesses.

Tell of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Berry of 825 North Louise street announce the marriage of their daughter, Katherine, to Paige L. Lynch, formerly of Seattle and more recently of Los Angeles, at a ceremony taking place Tuesday, April 1, 1924. Mr. and Mrs. Berry will make their home in Los Angeles.

ENGINEER TELLS NATURE'S FREAKS

Whistling Earthworms, Tree Climbing Fish, Found In Malay, Claim

BOSTON, April 9.—Strange freaks of nature were described here by Carveth Wells, noted English engineer and explorer, in addressing the Boston Society of Civil Engineers at their sixty-sixth annual meeting at the City club.

Wells, a fellow of the Royal Geographical society, held his audience spellbound as he related tales and described freaks encountered by him while surveying a railway for the British government in the Malay peninsula. Lantern slides illustrated the stories.

Despite Wells' statement that he spoke only "facts," his account was met with uncontrolled mirth and laughter.

Wells described the tree-climbing fish, which he said, "bashfully scaled trees and looked at people from a safe distance"; twelve-inch butterflies, a flower that weighed eighteen pounds and was three and a half feet in diameter; insects two and a half feet long, having the "interesting marriage custom" of the bride eating the bridegroom; trees from which drinking water was obtained when approached cautiously and expertly, earthworms in Java that sing and whistle at you, and various others.

Wells declared it was no uncommon sight to see natives shooting fish (water variety) along the banks of the Malay. A certain species of beautiful flower, which grows to large proportions, he said, will crumble at a touch of the hand.

Wells said he killed a deer seven inches high, and produced the tusks of the animal to prove it. He also described birds which sleep upside down, and others, the male of which hatch out the eggs laid by the female.

The length of crocodiles is not known, although the largest caught measured thirty feet. He described man-eating pythons, which he said, eat only the digestible portions of a person. "So that if you get swallowed you get your clothes and shoes back," he laughed.

Pioneers in Covered Wagons Trekking Again

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 9.—The covered wagons are again on the trek!

The movies would have it that the era of the covered wagon is history. Not so, for in far western Texas daily long trains of the slow-crawling pioneer vehicles are struggling into newly opened lands.

Thousands of acres of territory formerly unfit for cattle grazing have been discovered to be of the "cat's paw" variety of soil, perfectly adapted to agriculture. As a result homeseekers are pouring into the west, some in high-powered motors, others in dilapidated wagons, but above all, there predominate the reliable old covered wagon.

Penguins have a layer of fat three-quarters of an inch thick under their skins.

and returned to St. Paul, where in recent years she has made her home with a daughter, Mrs. G. C. Schulz.

The old lady has no rule for promoting longevity except to emphasize that the "mind rules the body. If you want to live a long time you must keep up an interest in current affairs of life," she says.

That's All

Makes Plea For Peace It's Gas Appliance Week Hoof and Mouth Plague Back to Land Movement

By Gil A. Cowan

Most impressive was the plea for peace made last night by Dr. David Starr Jordan, speaking before the Los Angeles district convention of the California Federation of Women's clubs here.

Simply a matter of educating the people not to look for trouble, according to the former president of Leland Stanford university. It is not a new theory. The Quakers successfully demonstrated its possibilities.

But what is a nation to do when embroiled in some one else's row? That's about the only way the United States gets into its fights. For one, we would say that there is nothing better than "not looking for trouble" and when we tell Europe how to run things they are apt to blame us for failure.

Education for peace, the theme of the clubwomen's convention, is inspiring. We should think peace, talk peace, keep peace, but there is no need for us not preparing for war. Skeleton army and naval forces should be maintained, we believe.

Incidentally, a great deal of the "peace talk" we hear is nothing more or less than propaganda. It is an effort on the part of international financiers to drag the United States into Europe's problems and let Uncle Sam "hold the sack."

No doubt but what we want peace, but at the same time there is no need of our nation being made the catspaw of anyone.

This is gas appliance week. Undoubtedly you have read about it. For the present generation gas is plentiful and more economical than electricity, perhaps.

However, we must look forward to that day when water power will be called upon to furnish us heat and light. Development of the nation's natural resources should not be impeded because we now HAVE gas. The more electricity the longer the gas will last.

At the club today business men were discussing the ravages of the hoof and mouth disease. For the city dweller this topic holds little interest, perhaps, yet the southland's prosperity is just as readily affected by the farmers' misfortune as the nation's. The film plants were to be closed down, or the citrus fruit frozen.

The greatest of consideration must be extended the dairymen who now are suffering just as the merchant does when fire wipes out his stock. The state allows only $15 a head for cattle and much less for hogs, which the officials who are doing their best to cope with a situation.

Financial, as well as civic interests, should unite in a program of relief and lend all assistance to the campaign of education being conducted to stop the spread of the plague. Southern California needs to be tolerant with the officials who are doing their best to cope with a situation.

Another topic discussed, along similar lines, was the back-to-the-land movement. California agriculturalists need new capital and new ownership, as well as a greater subdivision of large acreage. Diversity of crops also must be impressed upon the farmers, these business leaders agreed.

What holds true in this section also stands for the San Joaquin and Imperial valleys. A real deep-seated interest in agrarian problems is vitally necessary for the building of a greater empire on the Pacific shore.

And remember that California goes straight ahead toward its goal if you personally preach optimism and courage to the producers of necessary commodities. Back your words, however, with a helping hand.

Vice Squad Will Use Movies in Boozie War

WATERBURY, Conn., April 9.—Scofflaws beware! Waterbury's vice squad, devoting its energies to ending the liquor traffic, will be equipped with motion picture apparatus so it may first photograph and then raid. That is the idea of James A. Peaseley, prosecuting attorney, who says that since the scofflaws are so clever the vice squad must be more clever.

Dismantled saloons here have been barricaded now, it is said, and each barricade has a peephole, the whole outfit being known to the police as a "bird cage." The peephole is big enough to pass a drink through. When raiders appear the offender locks himself in by stepping on a device and then destroys his liquor. Then he steps out to meet the invaders. The moving picture attack is intended to show this up.

Proper Play Is Cure for Youthful Crime

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—The daily prayer of the youth of this generation is: "Give us this day our daily thrill, and make it hot!" At least, this is the claim made by Eugene T. Lies, Indianapolis, special representative of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, addressing a local audience. He blamed the "tremulousness" of this generation's crime on one of youth. Lies asserted that "control and development of the leisure hours of the child's life" constitute the solution.

"Where playgrounds have been installed statistics show that juvenile delinquency has decreased 40 to 90 per cent," said Lies, who added that 100,000 children go through the juvenile courts annually and that 75 per cent of the convicts are under 25 years of age.

Up to 100 portable theatres will be established in the United States to bring entertainment to all parts of the country, according to a European who is planning this method of entertainment.

The Snyder bill, which carries the endorsement of Commissioner Burke, of the Indian Office, however, would grant certificates of citizenship to all Indians without any such qualifications. The bill also would give the secretary of the interior the right to confer citizenship upon the Indians at his discretion.

L. A. DISTRICT IS CLOSE TO HEART OF MRS. WINTER

National President Wires Message to Delegates to Convention

In her arduous duties as president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter found time amid great national affairs that are drawing on her time and vitality to pen a telegraphic message to the Los Angeles district club women, now convened in Glendale.

As one noted club leader of the southland so aptly put it, "Los Angeles district is somehow very near to Mrs. Winter's heart."

Every club woman in the United States admires Mrs. Winter, who is particularly interesting to California club women, who are to entertain her in June when she comes west for the biennial in Los Angeles.

The following sketch of Mrs. Winter's life will be a delightful story to Los Angeles district club women:

WOMEN WRITERS GATHER 'ROUND LUNCHEON TABLE

Seats at Premium as Fair Scribes Rally at Annual Event; Dancing, Singing Afford Entertainment to Care-free Guests

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Los Angeles District newspaper women, press chairmen, club presidents 100 strong, and twenty special guests scored a big "scoop" as far as successful luncheons go, this noon, when the annual press luncheon of the District took place at the picturesque Egyptian Village on North Brand boulevard.

Furnishing a colorful setting, the Village presented a real Bohemian scene for the real high jinks of the District convention. These press affairs are always noted for their uniqueness and informal jollity and the affair today undoubtedly surpassed all precedents.

Places at the luncheon tables were at a premium for only 100 tickets were offered for sale and, when these were exhausted, a waiting list of names was on the waiting list, and twenty or so additional places were arranged for, which were soon taken.

Novel place cards, arranged by Mrs. John R. Dudley, greeted the diners at their places.

Arrangements for the luncheon and cabaret entertainment were made by Mrs. Leland A. Irish, press chairman for the District, and Mrs. E. M. Timmerhoff, state and district chairman of circulation.

During the luncheon hour a riot of harmony, humor, dancing and informal repartee proved diverting features.

"Bill Hatch" of radio fame made his appearance; and Mrs. Floryan Thompson, prominent composer, pianist and soprano, gave her own compositions, "Rose of Mexico" and "Chinese Lotus," accompanied by a well known trio.

Then there were artistic Russian costume dance numbers by Miss Dorris Russell, former pupil of Kosioff, "The March of the Mannequins," accompanied by Mrs. George H. Winsworth, Miss Jessie Herron gave a clever oriental dance, "Arabian."

To Grace Frye, past state chairman of press, versatile writer and speaker, fell the lot of toastmistress of the after luncheon hour. Fellow club editors she presented were Myra Nye of the Los Angeles Times; Caroline Walker of the Los Angeles Herald; Jean Loughborough of the Los Angeles Examiner; Ruth McIntock

PLEDGE FUND TO AID WASHINGTON BUILDING PLANS

Complete California's Quota For Club Headquarters In 15 Minutes

Glendale, Tuesday, April 8, 1924, will be written in the history of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, not only because it marked the opening session of the twenty-third annual convention, but because on that afternoon the district raised in fifteen minutes approximately $771, to more than complete the $5000 pledged in 1922 by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette as the gift of California club women for the $100,000 headquarters of the General Federation in Washington, D. C.

As the sound of Mrs. Charles H. Toll's gavel echoed throughout the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse to call over 650 club women to order for the long anticipated District convention, little did the club women realize that ere the afternoon closed they would have paid this wonderful honor to Mrs. Burdette, California director of the General Federation, who was unable to be present because of duties pertaining to plans for the Biennial in June in Los Angeles.

The history making minutes in the midst of the definite program, just after Mrs. O. B. Manchester, chairman of the General Federation headquarters for the district, made her report stating that to date $2,447.92 had been raised toward the $5000 pledged by Mrs. Burdette. In closing she turned to Mrs. Toll, saying, "Madame president, it is with regret that I report to you that with the Biennial but two months away, the California club women have not fulfilled their obligation."

Mrs. Toll's Appeal
The audience was further stirred by an appeal from Mrs. Toll and immediately all over the auditorium club presidents and delegates were standing and clamoring to say, "I pledge a 100 per cent quota for my club." Large and small clubs joined in pledging their quota, ten cents per capita. For fifteen minutes pledges were made. Among the clubs pledging were: Santa Monica Bay Women's club $51.70; Long Beach Ebell club $35; Mrs. L. B. Hogue $10; Pasadena Study club $12; Monday Afternoon club of Covina $37; Woman's Club of Burbank $20; Sierra Madre club of which Mrs. Burdette is an honored member, Mrs. Walker $5 and Mrs. Lawless $5; Lamanda Park club $100; Glenwood Women's club $10; Baldwin Park club $6.50; Ventura county, Mrs. Drown $5 and for the county $25; Los Angeles Audubon society $10; Gardena Wednesday Progressive club $10; Irwindale club $4.50; Wednesday Afternoon club of Alhambra $30; Westside Ebell club $40; Zelzah club $5; Long Beach College Women's club $27. Tujunga Women's club $8.10; General H. M. Roberts Parliamentary club $5; Friday Afternoon club of Big Pine $5; Huntington Park club $12; Redondo Beach club $10; Newhall club $5; Mary Williams club of Avalon $6.30; Hollenbeck Ebell club $8.50; Arcadia club $15.50; Reciprocity club $5; Mrs. N. Convention High Lights

Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, first vice president and chairman of federation extension for the district, gave a most interesting report. She stated that the 187 clubs in the district are located in Inyo county, 7 clubs; Los Angeles county, 148 clubs; Santa Barbara county, 10 clubs; San Luis Obispo county, 5 clubs; Ventura county, 17 clubs. She added that of this number 27 were club organizations in 1900.

During the past year Mrs. Lorbeer secured eighty-seven new members for the General Federation, which makes 119 of the 187 clubs in the district belonging to the General Federation.

In reporting as chairman of junior auxiliary work Mrs. E. A. Tufts stated that last year there were eight auxiliaries in the district, and today there are 20 with four in the process of organization. These auxiliaries include young people from 11 to 30 years. Her slogan is "A junior auxiliary in every club by 1925."

Mrs. H. U. Sherwood, chairman of endowment, reported that twenty-nine clubs in the district have paid the 72 cents per capita quota. These clubs are 17 in Ventura county; Santa Barbara county 5; Inyo county 2; and Los Angeles county 4.

During the year Mrs. E. M. Lazard has disposed of club emblems valued at $632.50.

"No tablet of stone can equal a Redwood grove as a memorial to the women of California coming down through the ages," said Mrs. R. W.

Meeker of Glendale, chairman of the Redwoods Memorial Grove fund.

"In our club work we must learn to keep in step and get a world view of life," Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, past president of the General Federation.

"Los Angeles district is the hub of club work. A convention has a four-fold purpose, presentation of annual reports; comparison of work; cementing of friendships; and gaining of ideas and inspiration for the next year's work," Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs.

"The Los Angeles District Convention is the flowering of the work of Mrs. Toll," Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs.

"Give your soul a vacation and enjoy this convention," Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs.

"We are going to have this district so large it will take in all of California for every one ought to live in Glendale," Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, past president of the Los Angeles district.

"In Mrs. Daniel Campbell's administration has come the culmination of the dreams of years of the Tuesday Afternoon club," Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. M. Timmerhoff, state and district chairman of circulation, 305 subscribers have been secured during the year for the "Federation News," the official publication of the California Federation.

CAR IS STALLED AS BRAKES FAIL

High School Quintet Spend Night Shivering Amid Snow-line Zephyrs

"There were five men in a boat—and the wheels came off is something of the predicament a quintet of Glendale Broadway High school boys found themselves in on Sunday afternoon, en route back from Lake Arrowhead by auto, when—zip!—their brakes failed to hold on the Switchback, and they found themselves nicely stuck in the mud.

It is necessary to pause at this dramatic moment to say that the quintet comprised Jack Ward, Neal Schuler, Jack Thayer, Kenneth Williams and Jerry Andrews.

Four Mile Hike
Debating what they should do, as the shades of night were falling fast on the "American Alps"—upside, upside!—they finally decided to hike to the nearest telephone, which they gained after a four-mile trek only to find that it was out of order. At this point the plot thickens. Forced to spend the night near the snow line, they tell tales of experience that were at least thrilling. As there were many other cars stalled, however, they did not want for company.

When Monday morning dawned and they thought of their classmates trudging (or chugging, as the case might be) to school, their hearts sank. But their spirits rose as they neared home and now—"Well, it's nice to look

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 9.—If a band of miniature able seamen, each exactly three inches in height, should come along the Providence waterfront one of these days looking for a vessel in which to ship, they could find a craft to their liking in the handsome brand new seven-foot three-master which is now receiving the finishing touches in the attic shipyard of Capt. EPIGRAMS MARK SPEECH OF COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Scintillating Flashes of Wit Drive Message Home as War's Advocates Are Scored in Address Before Club Convention

"It is not worth while to educate at all unless we educate for peace," was the message given last night by Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Leland Stanford, Jr., University, president of the world's peace conference, educator and lecturer, to the Los Angeles District convention, with "Education for Peace" the dominating theme of its sessions.

Dr. Jordan has journeyed the globe over bringing the message of peace to the people of the world, and last night he brought this message to Southern California through the District club convention.

His address was a rapid fire of facts and opinions, which he announced in his characteristically droll manner. "Some things I say are my opinions and you don't have to believe them, but other things are truths and you have to believe them."

Jordan's Epigrams
Some of the outstanding thoughts he brought to the convention delegates and guests were:

"Every great wrong the world has ever suffered has died in its triumph."

"People must get over thinking in terms of war."

"No person has a right to belong to a Christian church today if he is for war."

"While human nature does not change much, war is an acquired vice."

"There never was a day in which truth was not slaughtered and was among the first to fall."

"They don't burn men at the stake in England any more, but they do roast them. I've been roasted and it isn't so bad if they don't go too far with it."

"War is no longer the sport of kings or a football game without rules."

"When Germany invaded Belgium she invaded the spirit of the world."

"I can remember when slavery was treated with a certain amount of respect."

"The next war must be settled by people now living without waiting to educate posterity."

Stop War Thoughts
"Bring grown people to the place where they will stop thinking in terms of war."

"Considering Japan as an enemy is just like considering your neighbor an enemy."

"There never has been a dispute that could not be settled if both sides wanted to settle it."

"Frown on international lying. National lies are very dangerous things to play with."

Love for Flag Wins Parole From Prison

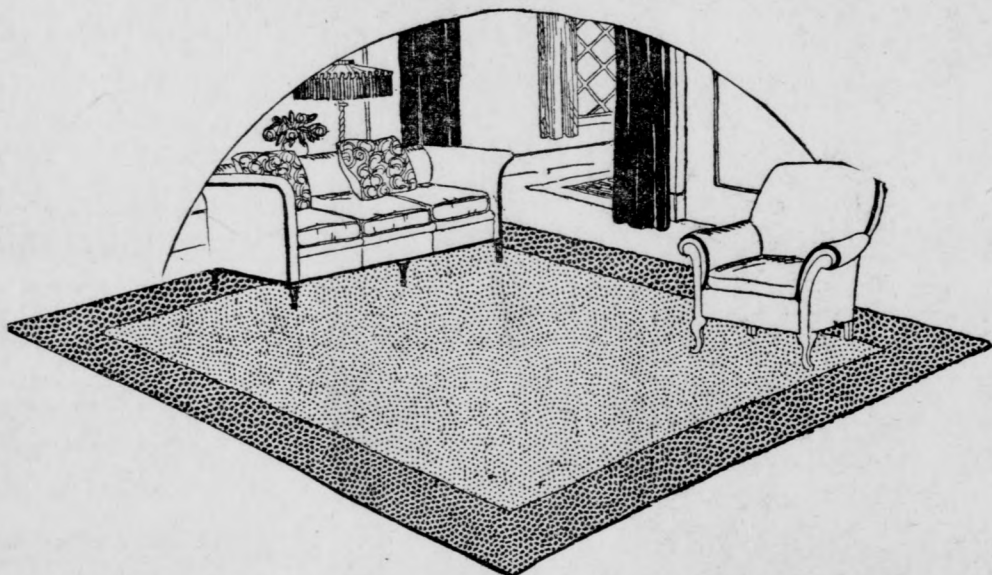

CHICAGO, April 9.—Jimmy Cannon Skiles' love for the flag of his country, which he carried with him from the trenches into the federal prison at Leavenworth, has won its reward.

He is ready to depart from prison by virtue of a commutation of his sentence to five years, which makes him eligible for parole immediately.

The reduction of his sentence came as a result of the efforts of veterans to obtain the release of soldiers confined in federal prisons.

While in the penitentiary Jimmy's duty was to haul down the flag each evening. He did it with conspicuous reverence and care, although taunted and jeered at by I. W. W.'s and in spite of the feeling that he had been unjustly sentenced.

Why I Came To Glendale

'Twas over thirty years ago
I read of this country's glory,
The verdure on mountains were all aglow,
Set me wild to see this story.
Why I chose this country for my home,
I saw depicted in a picture magazine,
Which created interest, and made me want to roam,
To the most wondrous country that ever was seen.
With snow on the mountains, and roses below,
Bright sunshine, blue skies, and ocean of gold,
Where mountains dip down to tides' ebb and flow,
And glorious sunsets continually unfold
This God's country to me, the end of my trail;
I felt I could not get there too soon,
So to this promised land I soon set sail,
Which has proved to me a blessing and boon.
I've had my shares of wintry blasts,
Those sloppy, sleety and chilly kinds
That freeze the marrow in your slats,
In those eastern lands one so often finds.
Glendale stands unrival'd as a place to live,
With schools and churches and banks galore,
Fifty thousand good citizens, a welcome give
To you and fifty thousand more.
So here I'll spin my lays and sing its praise,
And try to make surroundings brighter.
On its mountains and valleys I love to gaze,
With a contentment and heartfelt lighter.

of the Los Angeles Express; Gertrude Price of the Los Angeles Record; and Jessica Finley of the Los Angeles Illustrated Daily News.

Specially honored guests and speakers were Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation, and Daniel H. Jones, noted statistician of the south, who gave statistics of real human interest in discussing "Why Los Angeles?"

While Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the District, was unable to attend the entire luncheon affair, as she was presiding during the full day for each program and returned to her foothill home during the noon lunch hour to take much needed rest, the luncheon company was delighted that she dropped in for a glimpse of the affair before it was over.

Seated at the speakers' table were Mrs. Blanche Harriman Verbeck, president of the Southern California Women's Press club; Mrs. Helen Chalmers Kingston, dramatic director of the Cosmos club, who read Ella Wheeler Wilcox's "Shadow."

Egyptian Costumes
Each usher appeared in Egyptian costume, headed by Mesdames Thelbert R. Maule, Harry Shults, F. T. Bickness, A. D. Flickinger, A. J. Derby, Raymond G. Doyle, P. H. Marlette, Abner Miller and W. D. Fleming.

The Tuesday Afternoon club may well be proud of the representation they had in Miss Eva Daniels, publicity chairman, whose wonderful scrap book of press clippings was one of the features of the press gathering. A description of the scrap book and a poem by Miss Daniels are found elsewhere in this edition of the Glendale Evening News.

Miss Daniels' book was a part of an elaborate exhibit arranged by Mrs. Irish and Mrs. Timmerhoff. The form of a huge wheel was seen in the arrangement of newspapers from all over the district. With each scrap book was a picture of the club press chairman.

List of Guests
Those attending the luncheon were: Mrs. A. H. Boyd, press chairman of the Wa Wan club of Los Angeles; Mrs. A. D. Flickinger, Mrs. F. B. PUBLICITY WORK CLEVERLY SHOWN

Unique Exhibit Planned by Press Chairman Shown At Women's Meet

To Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, district chairman of press and publicity and president of the five counties of the district, one of the cleverest and most original exhibits of the Federation convention.

Displayed in large letters above the exhibit is the keynote of the exhibit, "The newspapers are the point of contact in publicity from the five counties of the district, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Ventura, Inyo, Los Angeles."

Mrs. Irish conceived the idea and carried out her exhibit as a huge wheel of progress and publicity. From the center of the wheel radiating toward the edge are the portraits of club publicity chairmen and club editors and further out, extending to the edge, is a clever arrangement of the "Heads" of the newspapers published in the district, Glendale local papers and the seven Los Angeles dailies occupying the spokes of the wheel. The spokes are the portraits of club publicity chairmen and club editors and further out, extending to the edge, is a clever arrangement of the "Heads" of the newspapers published in the district, Glendale local papers and the seven Los Angeles dailies occupying the spokes of the wheel.

On the table are a large number of scrap books compiled by the publicity chairmen of the various clubs of the district. A number are bound most artistically and the whole constitutes a very attractive and valuable exhibit.

Objects to Ruling of Motor Vehicles Head

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—(Pomona Grange is up in arms against the ruling of the H. H. Marsh, chief of the state motor vehicle department that boxes affixed to light cars transforms them into trucks and subjects the farm owners to a high taxation.

It was contended that the use of boxes in light cars for short hauls by farmers was not a violation of the law. Marsh's resolution condemning Marsh's interpretation were forwarded to the motor vehicle director.

L. A. DISTRICT IS CLOSE TO HEART OF MRS. WINTER

Disciples," which numbered Julia Ward Howe and other notables among its members. Mrs. Winter is a graduate of Wellesley, 1886, taking both bachelor's and master's degrees (1889).

She began her after-college life as the head of the upper department of a school established in Boston by Mrs. Quincy Shaw, Prof. Agassiz's daughter, where she taught for two years until her marriage with Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, where Mr. Winter is president of a large grain firm. Mr. Winter is interested in public affairs, and is now a member of the park board. His hobby is the out-of-doors, forestry, good roads, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Winter have had two children and are now grandparents.

In Minnesota Mrs. Winter began her public life by throwing herself into civic and welfare work. She became the founder and for eight years the president of the Minneapolis Women's Club, which, during her administration, came to own its own clubhouse and "Little Theatre." She also served on many public groups, such as the Kindergarten Association, the Visiting Nurses, the Playground Commission, the State Child Labor Committee, the Hostesses. During the war she was on the State Council of Defense, the Woman's Committee and also of the Commission of Public Safety, while her husband and daughter served in France.

Mrs. Winter's first work for the General Federation was in 1914, during Mrs. Pennybacker's second administration, when she became chairman of the department of literature. She built up its efficiency to a high degree, and certainly her contact with women all over the country by correspondence and speaking trips had its result in warm personal relations everywhere. Later, as director from Minnesota, she went on the board of the General Federation and acted as press chairman. The next two years saw her second vice-president and director of the massed departmental work for Americanization. Two years later she became national president, and is now in her second term of that office.

During Mrs. Winter's administration the General Federation has greatly increased its membership and perfected its administrative methods, particularly in bringing the state organizations into a more active and sympathetic share in all business. This has been further hastened by the purchase of very beautiful headquarters in Washington as a center for information and help and inspiration for all clubs over the country.

Besides having edited and added material to the autobiography of her distinguished father, Mrs. Winter has written two novels, "The Prize to the Hardy" and "Jewel Weed," as well as many short stories. She prepared numerous study club programs that have been used by the thousands of clubs, notably "The Immigrant as Seen Through His Own Literature" and "Americanization Programs." During her presidency she has written articles for the Woman's Home Companion, Ladies' Home Journal, Pictorial Review, North American Review, Review of Reviews, Modern Priscilla, Good Housekeeping, as well as numerous contributions to editorial or news service. She is likewise a member of the editorial staff of the Ladies' Home Journal, serving with the consent of the board of the General Federation.

SHOW HANDIWORK OF SERVICE MEN

Articles Made by Veterans Marked by Beauty and Clever Artistry

A display that attracts general interest is the wonderful arts and crafts exhibit of hand work of the ex-service men that is the first to be viewed upon entering the clubhouse. It is truly a remarkable collection of hand-made articles, all of them something "worth while."

There are baskets made by the blind; woven head chains; articles of fine tooled leather; beaten silver bracelets and pins; scarfs and material for sport suits, hand-woven; delicate embroidery; paintings; and many beautiful articles in red work.

Miss Lucile Millet of the occupational therapy department, Sawtelle, who is assisting at the exhibit, tells many interesting things in connection with this occupational work of the invalids, who left youth and strength in the trenches.

TO UNLOAD LOGS

Apparatus for quickly unloading logs from railroad cars has been invented that is operated by compressed air from a locomotive.

TO TEACH ARITHMETIC

A pocket size calculating machine has been invented to help in teaching children arithmetic.

Rubber was first made up into hard novelties, such as hairpins and combs.

DELEGATES COME IN HUNDREDS TO THREE-DAY MEET

Glendale Club Is Hostess to Southland's Leaders In 23rd Convention

United in heart and mind by the inspiring call of their leader, Mrs. Charles H. Toll to gather in convention, with the dominating theme, "Education for Peace" over 650 delegates from clubs throughout the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, national, state, district officers and chairman, other clubwomen and guests participated yesterday afternoon in the opening session of the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles district at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

The call to order was given promptly by Mrs. Toll at 1:30 o'clock.

All morning the clubhouse was thronged with clubwomen, members of the hostess club, the Tuesday Afternoon club, attending to details preliminary to the opening of the convention; and chairman of the district putting the finishing touches on exhibits in the banquet room; and delegates arriving, eager for the three-day gathering.

Co-operation was the keynote of the success of this opening session. Every officer, every chairman and every club member fitted harmoniously into the general convention plan, and fell into line for the strenuous activities of today and Thursday.

Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church, gave the invocation, and Mrs. W. E. Mabey, chairman of music for the district, led in singing "America, the Beautiful" and "Come, Thou Almighty King," with Miss Anne McPherson at the piano.

Seated in places of honor on the platform were Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, past president of the General Federation; Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, past president of the Los Angeles district and state chairman of resolutions; Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles district, presiding officer; Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the hostess club; the presidents of the other four counties in the Los Angeles district, Mrs. O. C. Houghton, Inyo; Mrs. C. T. Trussler, San Luis Obispo; Mrs. John Woods Dorrance, Santa Barbara, and Mrs. A. L. Drown, Ventura, and district officers and chairmen.

Inspiring greetings were given by the past general, state and district officers.

It was at this time that a lovely tribute was paid to Mrs. Charles H. Toll.

Tribute to Mrs. Toll
In concluding her greeting, Mrs. Jones presented Mrs. Toll with a beautiful basket of golden jonquils and greenery, most significant in that yellow and green are the Tuesday Afternoon club colors. "The green is for the everlasting love, and the yellow the imprisoned rays of the California's sunshine," said Mrs. Jones, as she expressed to Mrs. Toll the affectionate greetings of the clubwomen of her hostess city.

At the same time two baskets of a variety of spring blossoms were brought out and also placed before her. They, too, were gifts of the Glendale clubwomen.

Mrs. Toll was greeted most becomingly and beautifully in an orchid Canton crepe, heavily beaded, and, as she stood amidst the profusion of wonderful California flowers, she presented a charming picture.

Mrs. Campbell Reports
During the afternoon Mrs. Daniel Campbell reported for the local convention board, living her many directions to the convention delegates with her own delightful Irish humor.

Other interesting reports were heard from Mrs. A. J. Derby, or credentials; Mrs. C. S. McKelvey, on rules and regulations; Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, on federation extension; Mrs. E. A. Tutts, on junior memberships; Mrs. H. U. Sherwood, endowment; Mrs. E. M. Lazard, emblem; Mrs. E. H. Timmerhoff, circulation; Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Redwood Memorial grove; Mrs. O. B. Manchester, headquarters at Washington; Mrs. Daniel J. Baptiste, treasurer, and from the presidents of the four counties in the district, mentioned above.

Later tea was served in the Italian tea room by the home economics department, with Miss Lillian Douglass, chairman, assisted by the home economics department of the Tuesday Afternoon club, with Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood as chairman.

There was time, following the regular program, for a group of club reports, from the American University club, South Pasadena Sunny Slope club, Pointsettia club of Saticoy, Tuesday Morning club of Los Angeles, California History and Landmarks club, Tuesday Afternoon club of Los Angeles, Sonris Thursday club, Current Topics club of Ventura, Crafts Study club of Los Angeles, Santa Maria Community club, Guadalupe club of Santa Barbara county and General Henry M. Roberts Parliamentary club of Los Angeles.

Wit and Humor Flash When Mrs. C. H. Toll Presents County Presidents

In her duties as presiding officer, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, beloved president of the Los Angeles district, is always possessed of complete poise and most gracious, but the former was somewhat upset yesterday afternoon when she attempted to emphasize the latter in presenting the county presidents of San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

Mrs. O. C. Houghton, president of Inyo county, escaped being a participant in the informal platform repartee.

Inyo's Products
 It was when she had finished her report of Inyo county that Mrs. Toll rose to present Mrs. C. T. Trussler, president of San Luis Obispo county.

"And now we come to that beautiful part of California," said Mrs. Toll, hesitating with a smile and turning toward Mrs. Trussler, "San Luis Obispo county, where they produce wonderful almonds and fine peaches."

It was then that the district president's far-renowned poise was somewhat upset, for the convention company burst into laughter as Mrs. Trussler rose to give her report, which she prefaced with, "I would like to add that we not only grow fine almonds, but also prunes."

Ventura's Reply
 Following her, John Woods Dorrance, president of Santa Barbara county, was presented, and in the tone of subtle humor running throughout her clever report, she introduced herself by saying, "I am glad that no one told our district president that we didn't send any of them to the convention."

But the frivolity was not over, for when Mrs. A. L. Drown, president of Ventura county, was presented, she prefaced her report by declaring, "We raise nuts, prunes and lemons in Ventura county, but we didn't send any of them to the convention."

LITANY WRITTEN BY LEADER READ AS WOMEN MEET

Solemn Prayer of President Shows Spirit Animating Club Members

Although not present in person, Mrs. T. M. G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, was present in spirit this morning at the sessions of the district convention at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

For California women Mrs. Winter stands for the Biennial of the General Federation in June in Los Angeles, for among the women of the world who will be in attendance at the great gathering Alice Ames Winter will lead them all.

"The Biennial" was the subject this morning of an early conference at 8:45 o'clock, presided over by Mrs. John F. Mead, vice president of the California Local Biennial Board.

Read Club Litany
 Of course Mrs. Winter's name was prominent in Biennial plans outlined, and then at the session at 9:30 o'clock the wonderful club convention litany written by Mrs. Winter and used at the programs of the General Federation board meetings in Washington in January, was read.

The litany, which is a responsive reading, is herewith printed: God, our Creator, our Father and our Friend, from many homes and with many minds we come together this day, bound each to each as daughters of Thy Wisdom. Thy Love, Thy Will.

May day unto day utter speech and night unto night show knowledge.

May the Spirit of the Lord rest upon us, the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and right, the spirit of knowledge and fear of the Lord.

Of us may it be said: I n her tongue is the law of kindness; she looketh well to the ways of her household and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up and call her blessed, saying, Many daughters have done excellently, but thou excellest them all.

Here may mercy and truth meet together, righteousness and peace kiss each other.

So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

Here shall we stand in the ways and ask where is the good way, that we may walk therein.

Behind Thy Wisdom and Thy Counsel lieth Thy Love.

Teach us to have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and though we have all faith, so that we could remove mountains, and have not Love, we are nothing.

With Thou here light a candle of understanding in our hearts that shall not be put out.

Teach us that we cannot truly pray Thy prayer without a pledge that we will fulfill the human part of bringing to pass Thy Will and Thy Kingdom here on Earth.

Father, who are in Heaven, etc.

A goodly company of convention delegates were in attendance at the conference and joined eagerly in the questioning of the local Biennial board for information to take to their individual clubs.

Some of the important facts brought out by questions asked chairmen of the board were:

That only official delegates will be assigned seats at the Biennial.

Unless committee members attend the next call of their chairmen they will be dropped from committees.

That a club president is not a delegate to the Biennial unless formally appointed.

That a club is allowed one delegate for every 100 or fraction of 100 members, and one delegate for every additional full 100 members. There are no alternates in General Federation.

That delegates will be apportioned according to the record of dues in the hands of the treasurer.

That the delegations will be seated according to states. Directors of the states draw for seating

That 150 young women ushers and pages have been drilling for weeks for service at the Biennial.

That this is the first time in the history of the General Federation that the convention is being entirely financed within club circles.

The California Federated club women are giving $25,000 for expenses.

California's Part
 The final word was from Mrs. Cowles, past president of the General Federation and honorary director of the Biennial board, who said, "Remember, California is hostess; let no California woman become disgruntled."

At the later morning session with Mrs. Charles H. Toll and Mrs. John C. Urquhart presiding, there were singing, led by Mrs. W. E. Mabey, a report from Mrs. W. W. Slayden, recording secretary, and then Mrs. Robert J. Burdette conducted a spirited club institute.

The club women responded quickly and brilliantly to Mrs. Burdette's questioning and much of value was brought out. Some of her questions and conclusions were:

"What is the purpose of a club? The use of common mind and accumulate wisdom for action."

"Who should become members of the club? Women who wish to give, which they have to give, as well as receive. Ten cents from a woman who has to save that ten cents is of more value than ten dollars from a woman who just hands it over."

"Barbed Wire Fence
 'What are the benefits of a limited club? The minute you build a barbed wire fence around yourself you shut out a mighty sight more than you shut in.'"

"What are the dangers of an unlimited club? There is danger if the club is not perfectly organized."

"How can you democratize a club? By getting the women to work together. The heartache of club life could be avoided if every woman knew the woman she was criticizing."

"What of junior members? This world is a changing one and we must get the viewpoint of youth for the future."

"What form should the constitution and by-laws take? They should be as concise as possible, conforming to those of the higher club units."

These are just some of the many interesting things crowded into a very full hour by Mrs. Burdette.

Following the institute there was more assembly singing and reports from clubs.

DELEGATES GAIN INSPIRATION FOR WIDER ACTIVITY

Mrs. McCormack Predicts
Clubdom's Center Will Be Fixed Here

A message of inspiration to the convention company comes from Mrs. Harry S. McCormack, corresponding secretary of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, whose capable work throughout the year is receiving praise at the convention.

Mrs. McCormack has had wide experience in club work in the east and came to California eager to enter into club activities here. Her devoted work for Los Angeles district has been splendidly done and through it her influence has reached far.

It is her prediction that the greatest club center in the United States ultimately will be located in Southern California.

Her message to the district delegates meeting in Glendale is:

Coming to Southland
"Women from all sections of the country have selected Southern California for their home, others are on the way, and still more are planning to do so; within five years many thousands will be led to do likewise."
"Many of these women are the flower of the cities and towns of the east, north, south and west, and hundreds of them have been, or now are, the leaders in club life in their respective sections."

"These women have gained valuable experience and training in educational, social and business clubs, welfare associations and similar organizations, which they are bringing to Southern California and generously giving to us, through their affiliation with our numerous large clubs."

New Era Opens
"Anyone who has had the opportunity of working with club women in other sections of the country or has noted their active work has realized that a new era has opened for women and that individually and collectively they are accomplishing untold good in their respective activities."
"To think of merging these women into one body, with their wealth of experience, upon the foundation already established in Southern California, forces one to the conclusion that the time is not far distant when the largest, strongest and most forceful body of club women will be centered here."

"The Los Angeles district which is meeting in convention in our city this week, is one of six in the state of California. It comprises five counties—Inyo, Santa Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura and Los Angeles—representing 187 clubs with a total membership of nearly 35,000 women. There are 600 clubs in the state, with a total membership of 70,000, which shows the Los Angeles district as representing one-half of the total membership."

"This district has already shown marvelous growth, not alone in numbers, but in having employed additional membership of clubs, that are doing excellent educational work for the younger generation in junior auxiliaries, girl reserves of Y. W. C. A., as well as aiding in the training and care of ex-service men and women."

"Women's clubs, united, as they are, for the very best in every line of endeavor, are exerting an influence which is being strongly felt and acknowledged in public and social life throughout the entire world. Thus it will be seen that the strides made by women of this age in assuming their part in the affairs of the day has brought a marvelous transformation, as this present convention proves. But greater activities are ahead and the time is not far distant when women's clubs will be called upon to direct their power upon issues larger than any yet approached, and when that time arrives, the Los Angeles district, on account of its strength and cosmopolitan character, will be in the vanguard of the women's clubs of the world."

"Let us, therefore, keep that trite saying of Rochefoucauld's in our minds: 'If we have not peace within ourselves it is in vain to seek it from outside sources,' and go forth with that 'Spiritual Force of Understanding' which our state president, Mrs. John C. Urquhart, is ever teaching, and that thought which our district president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, has given for our guidance: 'The mortar which binds the material efforts of our structure together for all time must be the cement of spiritual thought.'"

For Delegates

While taking up but small space in the banquet hall of the clubhouse, the exhibit of the Landmarks club is replete with interest. A reproduction of the memorial tablet marking the spot where the treaty of Cahuenga was signed and a splendid picture of the building that has been erected to mark the historic spot, are among the things of note.

A drawing in the rough and an artist's sketch illustrate what is visualized as the result of the plans that are to be carried out for the Brand Memorial garden that is to be on the site of the old mission at San Fernando.

POWER OF PRESS SHOWN IN VERSE

Editors and Correspondents
Plan Luncheon Frolic
At Convention

Club presidents, press chairmen and club editors are to have a delightful frolic during the convention, the annual press luncheon, to be held at the picturesque Egyptian Village.

"The power of the press" has been expressed in a clever poem by Miss Eva Daniels, publicity chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon Club. It is herewith printed:

History tells of that famous ride
In the month of April, '73,
When in every town the news was spread
That the British were coming, and
Oh, the dread!
But Paul Revere, on that Charlestown shore,
Saw the lanterns hung in the old
North Tower;
And today our glorious flag is unfurled
Because of the shot heard 'round
the world,
And in those days the powers that be Thought that the best kind of publicity.

Now, I know you wonder why this I mention
At the press luncheon of this convention;
But as press chairman, you will agree
The alphabet of success spells Publicity.

The right kind, of course—that's taken for granted;
A mistake—and your life is haunted;
So cross the "i" and dot the "i,"
And the president will smile as she passes by
And to make the club editors happy.

Be sure to send your copy "snappy"
Just to make it a fifty-fifty deal,
And they'll be with you through woe and weal.

Again it is April, though '24,
And the town's in a bustle—a constant roar;
Again lanterns are hung, but there is no dread;
The convention is on, the news is spread.

That the Los Angeles district in convention assembled in Glendale town
Are doing things and are winning renown.
They are working for women, children and state
From early morn until the day is late.

And they look for a reward?
No; the crown they wear is the blessing of God
In the well done and a thankful heart—
For the good of others they have done their part.

And a line is due, appreciation to express
To our good club editors and to the press;
Their policy has made for our success.
So God bless them, club editors and the press.

GROWTH OF CITY AIDED BY WOMEN

Thursday Afternoon Club Is Active Social Agency
Since Foundation

Organized January 11, 1906, with seventeen charter members and federated in October of the same year, the Thursday Afternoon Club has grown in numbers until today, as a member of the Los Angeles district, it has ninety women actively engaged in developing the organization.

When first organized, the membership of the club was limited to twenty women, but with activities growing with Glendale, "the fastest growing city in America," a broader service was desired and the membership increased.

With philanthropy as the primary object, the club has taken an active part in all movements toward civic betterment of South Glendale, once a separate municipality and the home of the club.

Is Social Center
The organization has also figured largely as the social center of that part of the city.

The club owns two fine lots and expects to build a modest home in the near future.

A social meeting is held on the first Thursday and the arts and crafts department meets on the third Thursday of each month.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon is the present president.

DEATH SUMMONS MRS. E. BRAINERD ON EVE OF MEET

Prominent Club Leader of
L. A. Called By Death
Monday Morning

Just on the eve of the opening of the convention in Glendale, death took one of the prominent club leaders of the Los Angeles district, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, who died Monday morning, April 7, 1924, at her home in Los Angeles.

Convention delegates meeting in Glendale will pay tribute to the memory of Mrs. Brainerd, one of the organizers and past presidents of the Women's City Club and Big Sister League; a member of the Friday Morning Club for seven years; on the board of the Women's Athletic Club; first president of the Children's Hospital Auxiliary; member of both state and county Republican committees, and vice-president of the Republican Study Club last year and vice-president of the Republican county central committee.

Aided Disabled Vets
On account of her ill health Mrs. Brainerd recently refused the candidacy for the presidency of the Friday Morning Club of Los Angeles. Her death resulted from pneumonia and toxic poisoning.

Although she was intensely interested in club work, the interest which was closest her heart was her work with the disabled veterans.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the First Congregational church in Los Angeles, with Dr. C. S. Patton officiating. In accordance with her wish her body will be buried in the same grave with her son, Lieut. E. R. Brainerd, Jr., who died at Camp Taylor, Ky., five years ago.

During the convention resolutions in tribute to her memory will be drawn up.

VICE PRESIDENT OUTLINES VISION

Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer Serves as Extension Secretary
For District

Standing at Mrs. Toll's right hand is her first vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, who also serves the district as federation extension secretary.

In their contact with Mrs. Lorbeer the Los Angeles district club women have come to hold her in high esteem, and her message at this convention time will be happily received by them all. Mrs. Lorbeer's message is:

"As we come together for this annual convention of the Los Angeles district of California federated clubs, we are conscious of the expanding growth of the federation during its twenty-four years of existence—its greater number of members, better understanding of the meaning of federation, greater mutual benefit between individual clubs and the federation, closer affiliation of both clubs and individuals, larger opportunities for service, and greater joy in contact, and we rejoice in the blessings the years of earnest endeavor of other club women have made possible to us."

Seek Wider Outlook
"As the outlook, interests, understanding and ideals of the federation as a whole reflect through the clubs, of the individual members of the federation, it is for each one of us to strive toward the goal we wish the federation to reach. Especially in a gathering like this, let us be receptive and eager for both information and inspiration, that our outlook may be broadened, range of interests be wider, our understanding of conditions, needs and possibilities of service be more complete and our ideals in many avenues of thought and action be purer and clearer."

"Thus will we enrich the federation itself, which in turn reacts to enrich us, and make truer and stronger a force whose influence is without limit."

"Yours for a continuously bigger and stronger federation."

CAMPAIGN SEEKS TO SAVE FLOWERS

Pictures in Clubhouse Show
Growths Threatened
With Extinction

Reproductions of pictures of our most beautiful wild flowers, in natural size, form the nucleus of the exhibit that covers one wall of the tea room at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, and to these are added an interesting number of curious birds' nests and pictures of our feathered songsters.

Mrs. Harriet Williams Myers of Los Angeles is district chairman of this department, and is vitally interested in the movement of the clubwomen to assist in every way possible to enforce our state laws protecting the flowers, as well as the birds, from becoming extinct.

The clubs are agitating legislation that is needed in many cases to save wild plants of beauty.

MUSIC IS VITAL FORCE IN WORLD

Mrs. Mabey Urges Formation of Sections in Every Club in District

Mrs. William E. Mabey is one of California's accomplished musicians and the Los Angeles district, she has rendered the district in general by assisting the individual clubs, by conducting helpful conferences of music chairmen, and by assisting at the presidents' councils. She says of music:

Music Vital Force
"Music has become a vital force in the lives and dreams of every mother of today. Think of a home, school, club, church or community without music."

"Landon says: 'Music is God's best gift to man, the only art of heaven given to earth, the only art of earth we take to heaven.'"

"Oliver Wendell Holmes says: 'Take a music bath once or twice a week for a few seasons. You will find it is to the soul what a water bath is to the body. It elevates and tends to maintain tone to one's mind. Seek, therefore, every clean opportunity for hearing it. Purchase some kind of an instrument for the home and see that its beneficent harmonies are often heard. Let music be as much a part of the day's routine as eating or reading or working.'"

"Herbert Spencer says: 'The fine art which, more than any other, ministers to human welfare. Where there is beautiful music it is difficult for discontent to live.'"

Need United Effort
"The social life of our nation, marred by class spirit and race prejudice and industrial cleavages, calls for a united effort on the part of our club women. Music can do more than any other force to bring about a world peace. Creeds divide us into hostile groups, but when we sing we are one."

"May I urge every club to organize a music section, if you have none. Eleven clubs have formed music sections the past year. Our main study has been to learn how to listen to music. No subject can be understood apart from its historic setting and development. Let us stress the educational and spiritual aspects of music rather than merely to entertain."

These paintings are by Marcella Lane, the famous California artist.

Some very fine specimens of the petrified forests were also on exhibition.

REPORT REVEALS DELEGATES HERE FOR CONVENTION

Credentials Committee Finds
252 Representatives of District Clubs

With more delegates arriving hourly and the final count incomplete, Mrs. A. J. Derby of the credentials committee, presented yesterday afternoon to the convention company a report compiled of the registration of delegates for the opening session.

She stated that from the 187 clubs in the district there were 252 official delegates present for the opening session.

Her report also showed the presence of two General Federation officers and chairmen; three state officers and chairmen; and twenty-nine district officers and chairmen.

L. A. County Delegates
From Los Angeles county there were delegates from thirty-six clubs, nineteen presidents, and seventy-four delegates, making a total of ninety-three.

From Los Angeles county sixty-four clubs were represented in the count, thirty-three presidents, and seventy-four delegates, making a total of 107.

From Inyo county, two clubs were represented, with two club presidents and the county president.

Up-Country Clubs
From Santa Barbara county, three clubs were represented, with two club presidents and the county president.

From San Luis Obispo county, two clubs were represented, with two delegates and the county president.

From Ventura county, five clubs were represented, with four presidents, five delegates and the county president.

ACTIVITY SHOWN IN LAW STUDIES

Parliamentary Section Is Thriving Youngster in Local Club Life

One of the youngest "club babies" in attendance at the district convention is the Women's Parliamentary Law Club of Glendale. A sketch of this thriving "youngster" might prove of interest to the convention delegates.

In June, 1923, at the urgent request of a number of newly elected presidents of different women's organizations, who wished special training and drill in parliamentary procedure, Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, long a student and authority in parliamentary law, assisted by Mrs. A. H. Brown, also a student, opened a summer class in advanced law, meeting semi-monthly at the public library.

Interest increased with such rapidity that soon members were coming from Eagle Rock, La Cresenta and more distant points.

Becomes Permanent
The result was that in October, at the home of Mrs. C. G. Putnam, 424 North Glendale avenue, the class resolved itself into a permanent club organization.

Following this a letter of congratulation was received from Mrs. Charles H. Toll, bearing an invitation to become part of the Los Angeles district.

However, the invitation was not accepted until officers had been elected and duly installed by Mrs. W. E. Evans, federation secretary of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

There are now forty-six members in the club, whose slogan is: "Knowledge Is Power." Meetings are held on the first and third Friday mornings at the public library.

The club is active in philanthropy as well as in civic affairs, other departments being membership, finance, education and hospitality.

Taking the gift in her arms, Mrs. Campbell expressed her appreciation briefly, saying, "I thank you, and assure you I shall hug it to my heart, for it's dressed in green."

Chair Is Heirloom of Jefferson Davis

MARTIN'S FERRY, Ohio, Apr. 9.—A hand-carved rosewood chair, once owned by Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States of America, is being overhauled in the workshop of L. A. Watson here.

The chair is the property of Mrs. G. E. McGlasson, Charleston, W. Va. It is said to have been an heirloom in the Davis family at the time of the Civil War. Since then it has been refinished once, Mrs. McGlasson said.

CLIPPINGS SHOW PUBLICITY WORK BY MISS DANIELS

Glendale Scrap Book Stands
First Among Exhibits of Press Agents

The Glendale Evening News is justified in sharing with Miss Eva Daniels her pride over the wonderful book of press clippings she displayed today at the press luncheon at the Egyptian Village.

Every press chairman from the 187 clubs in the Los Angeles district was asked to prepare a press scrap book for exhibition today, and Miss Daniels' book of Tuesday Afternoon Club publicity so far surpassed the others that it was the chief feature of the display.

The Glendale Evening News compliments Miss Daniels on her splendid work and is gratified to note that a large majority of the clippings in her book were from The Glendale Evening News.

As for the book itself, it is the artistic work of Miss Daniels' brothers, George E. and Victor W. Daniels, owners of the Behrendt Press of Los Angeles, and was a surprise gift to her.

It is a book 13 by 18 inches in size, covered with hand-made parchment in blue and gold. The cover is bound and trimmed with blue leather, tooled with gold, and its inscription is: "Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, Publicity 1923-24," on a square of blue leather in the center. At the bottom is another small leather square bearing Miss Daniels' name in gold.

Special mention should be made of the neat arrangement of the clippings on the pages.

GUADALUPE PUTS ON PROGRAM OF IMPROVEMENTS

Small Club Branches Out In Varied Activities In Santa Barbara

Mrs. L. F. McClellan of Guadalupe, a visitor in the city, is president of one of the most interesting of the small clubs that are represented at this meeting of the district federation.

The Guadalupe Women's club was organized four years ago, in an agricultural section of the northwest corner of Santa Barbara county, near Santa Maria, in the locality where the "Ten Commandments" was filmed.

The club has been admitted to the general, state and district federations, and was the first in the district to complete payment of the endowment fund. It supports a branch of the Santa Barbara Library, purchased for the school to use in the music memory contest, is now engaged in building a permanent tennis court for the use of young people of the locality, and has a snug sum in the bank toward a building fund. A splendid record for a cultural club that has but twenty-three members.

WOMEN OUTNUMBER MEN
According to statisticians who have compiled figures collected by census takers in several countries in recent years there are about 25,000,000 more women than men in the world.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION smashes AN ANCIENT SUPERSTITION

Lubricating oils made from eastern crudes cost you more than oils made from Pacific Coast crudes. Are they really any better — or even as good?

Two years ago the engineers of the California State Highway Commission decided to submit the prevailing superstition that eastern oil is in some mysterious way "better" to the brutal test of actual comparison. A series of tests was conducted, and careful records were kept.

Zerolene's Claims Verified
The results proved that the oils made from western crude were, if anything, a little better than those carrying the eastern label. They enabled the trucks in which they were used to deliver better gasoline mileage, and carbon accumulations were appreciably less. As to thinning out under heat, the Highway Commission's engineers found that at operating temperatures the bodies of the two oils were practically identical, and the western oil "stood up" under use fully as well as the eastern.

A Better Oil Even If It Does Cost Less
These independent tests verified this Company's claims for Zerolene, which we believe to be the most carefully manufactured oil on the market, whether of eastern or western origin.

So why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene, even if it does cost less.

A series of independent and impartial reports showing the experience of large users with Zerolene motor oil has been collected in our booklet, "Why Pay Tribute to a Superstition?" Ask any Standard Oil Company sales or service station representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.

Ink Is Used to Hide Big Hole In Stocking

TOPEKA, Kan., April 9.—The other evening there was a big dancing party in Topeka, and just as the dancers were fairly started one of the women rushed into the room. "Look here," she said to a friend, and pointed to a big hole in her stocking, just above the ankle. "It's a brand new pair of stockings. I never had them on before," she said.

WHY THERE MUST BE COMBUSTION

Scientists Explain Reason Why There Is No Fire Without Gas

It is the combustion of gas that causes heat, no matter in what form the fuel is used, be it candle, oil, wood or coal. Combustion engineers, realizing this fact, make provisions for the atomization and gasification of either liquid or hard fuels, in the design of fireboxes. For our information they have scientifically defined gas as an aeriform fluid without independent shape and volume, but tending to expand indefinitely. To impart an economic value to gas as such, there must be combustion if we are to utilize its intrinsic heat content. In other words, to make fuels serve us as a source of heat, there must be combustion, and combustion means there must be a volume of gas before it will burn.

In the case of the candle, for instance, combustion must first take place in the match which is used to ignite it. The match is lit by friction caused by the scratching of the head, which produces sufficient heat to set up a chemical reaction of the ingredients of the match head, thereby releasing the gas, which ignites, the resultant heat causing a similar action in the structure of the wood, which emits a gas that burns. The application of the heat from the match flame to the candle generates gas from the wick when it becomes ignited. This heat then melts the wax or oil so that it flows upward into the wick, atomizes and gives off its gas, which we observe as burning simultaneously with that of the wick.

Any flame applied to wood and coal has the same result. Thus, combustion is defined as a rapid chemical combination with the oxygen of the air, of the substances of wood and coal which have produced gas. This is the source of heat common to all of us. Thus, in order to burn gas it must first be released from the fuel being utilized.

In the wood-burning, coal-burning or oil-burning appliances, such as the ordinary cook stove, the process is recognized as cumbersome, wasteful, inconvenient and dirty. In the case of gas fuel, however, as used in the kitchen range, we have a fuel which is furnished by a great industrial utility.

No Fire Without Gas
Industrial economists have made the statement that from the standpoint of fuel economy it is far more logical and economical for utilities to manufacture gas, first, under perfectly controlled conditions and technical supervision to serve it to the consumers as gas fuel, than to burn fuel from which the gas is, or may be, made. That is, it is better to burn gas as fuel rather than fuel as gas. The direct delivery of gas fuel to the home eliminates waste and cuts out many processes of handling common hard fuels. In these days of congestion of transportation facilities, the saving of freight cars alone, by their decreased use in handling such hard fuels, is considerable. This should be important to every Californian.

Appearance alone was not the only factor influencing the decision in favor of the A-B Gas Range. Equally important were rust-proof oven linings, baked white enamel finish, unusual strength and rigidity, less gas, better cooking, convenience of operation, etc.

All Ovens Are Guaranteed

The effects of vapors and intense heat play havoc with the oven of the ordinary gas range. Not so with A-B linings. The oven of this stove is lined with a patented aluminum composition, thereby making possible an indefinite guarantee that they will not burn through with many years of wear.

No Stove Polish Used

on the A-B. A damp cloth and a little soap restore instantly its original finish. The line consists of 30 patterns, some in all-white enamel, some in a combination of white and black, others in all-black enamel.

METHOD TO KEEP GAS RANGE CLEAN

Good Suggestions Offered to Enable Housewife to Get Results

First of all, a gas range is a clean appliance, and it is quite simple to keep it so, if one would only observe a few minor details. For instance—when the cooking is done too rapidly, frequently the pot boils over and clogs up the holes in the burner. This in turn causes the sharp blue flame to become yellow. As you know, a yellow flame will soot utensils. The burner can be easily removed, however, the holes opened up and cleaned; and after it is replaced the gas will burn with the ordinary sharp blue flame—which is a clean flame.

To wipe off a gas range it is advisable to use some oil—such as salad oil, and not coal oil—and in this way the metal parts will never rust. To prevent oven linings from rusting, always leave the oven door open after baking. In this way, as the oven cools off, no moisture will ever condense upon the linings.

Should it be noticed that the walls and ceiling above the gas range become covered with grease, it should be remembered that this is due to the fact that the cooking is done too rapidly. That is, grease is volatile, and when frying is done too rapidly the evaporation of the grease is what causes soiled walls. All of this can be eliminated if frying and other cooking is not done too quickly.

It is particularly easy to keep the newer models of gas ranges clean, as practically all of the surfaces are enameled. Nevertheless, a consideration of the above simple facts will make it easy for anyone to always have a clean gas range.

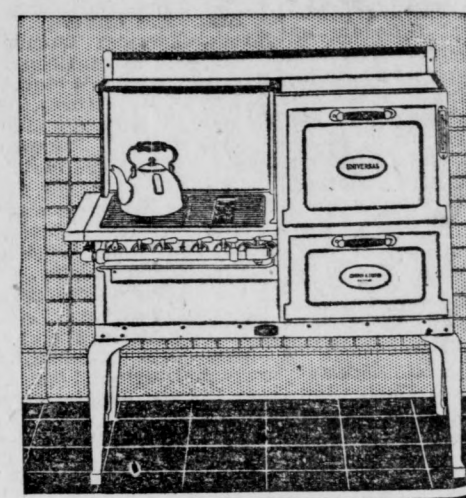

Depends on Equipment
Efficiency in factory, reduced to the ultimate, depends upon the ability and the will of the worker to achieve the maximum result with a minimum of effort in a given time. His ability is dependent upon his strength and skill plus the best tools, the best light, and the best raw material. His will is stimulated by the psychology of the shop—team work with his associates, sympathetic understanding of the executives, cheerful surroundings, patient admonition, and now and then a word of generous praise.

The kitchen is the workshop of the home. The housewife, while she is both boss and superintendent, is also the artisan. Her ability to achieve the best results in her factory are also dependent upon her tools, the lighting of her shop, and the best raw material. Being boss she can and does provide her factory with the best raw material—at least the best that the company purse can allow.

GET QUICK SALE WITH WANT ADS, REALTORS STATE

Bourne & Lee Find Evening
News Classified Bring
Many Purchasers

There is no slackening of sales in Glendale real estate, except where people have put prohibitive prices on their property, according to Bourne & Lee, real estate brokers of 212 1/2 North Brand boulevard.

"We checked up our recent sales of homes and lots," they state, "and find that we are up to the standard of last year, but also find that so many people have put prohibitive prices on property that it is harder to get good honest buys for our clients."

"Homes at a right price, advertised in the classified columns of the Glendale Evening News, get us a ready response, and a quick sale. Our classified ad in this paper last week sold to the first caller, A. J. Lucas, our last house in Sparr Heights and brought us seven prospects for homes. We have a waiting list for homes under $5500 and several clients with $500 to $1000 cash for all classes of homes. We also find, besides the home demand, that income property priced right, with a fair return for the investment, is wanted. We have a big demand for homes to rent and also factory buildings in the industrial zone, and have few factory buildings to offer."

At Sparr Heights
Bourne & Lee report the following sales in Sparr Heights: William Gaston, duplex, $12,000; Chester Reuther, home, $10,500; Arthur Cott, a home, $8000; G. B. Selby, a home, $8500; William Anawalt, a home, $7500; Mary Pritchard, a home, $6500; Charles Cramer, a home, $8000; Tom Harding, a home, $7500; Mary Moore, a home, $7500; Mrs. Hallett, a home, $7300; S. B. Fosmer, a home, $8000; Mr. Anderson, a home, $7250; Mr. Cusareo, a home, $7500; Mrs. Anna Neilson, a home, $7500; Mr. Mendvels, a home, $7000; Mrs. A. D. Altons, a home, $7300; A. J. Lucas, a home, $7250.

Homes and Lots

Brackley, Louise street, $8000; William Hensen, West Wilson avenue, $7500; Mary Girard, West Lexington avenue, $7200; S. L. Gillan, Lot, Web street, $3750; Clara Hall, Elm street, $4500.

Sacred Baboon Dates Back to Old King Tut

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 9.—New and valuable additions to the Walbridge Park zoological collection have arrived and are on display for hundreds of visitors.

One of these is the baboon family—the Hamadryas. The animal is the gift of Ellis Joseph, Australian animal dealer. It replaces the animal which recently died here.

The Hamadryas was one of the sacred baboons of King Tut's day and its likeness is found on many of the carvings and sculpture of that and succeeding ages. The baboon measures probably five feet from tip of fingers to toes. He wears a great mane of gray, almost as long and as heavy as that of King, the zoo lion. He has a deep, guttural bark and, despite the fact that he is in a cage by himself, early Sunday he established himself as king of the monkey colony.

From the Isle of Pines came one of the most beautiful and rarest of birds, at least in captivity. It is a tropical barn or monkey-faced owl. Prof. J. G. Halapleus saw the bird a few weeks ago when he was touring in the isle. He purchased it and it was his companion on the long trip home. He carried the bird in a hat box. It was an object of much curiosity on the boat. A fellow passenger, a representative of Rock Creek Zoological Park in Washington, attempted to buy the bird, but Halapleus refused to sell it.

Entire Valley Will Join in Special Program at Early Dawn

This will be the only sunrise service held in the valley and will bring thousands of people to Owensmouth in the early dawn of that historic day.

As the first pale rays of the rising sun gild the great urns resting on the beautiful classic columns, the Davis Sisters will sound a pean of praise on their golden-throated trumpets. There will follow the processional, "Christ the Lord Is Risen," sung by three score white-robed maidens.

Conchita Chavez, well known locally for her beautiful voice, will be the soprano soloist. Thad Harvey, who has been heard in the Hollywood bowl in solo numbers with the Philharmonic orchestra accompanying, will sing on this occasion.

McBrydes Back After Trip to Yuma, Ariz.

Attorney and Mrs. James McBryde of 108 East California street have just returned home from an enjoyable four days' trip to Arizona on a combined business and pleasure trip. They were accompanied by Mrs. Emogene Newby, Mrs. Donaldson and Donald Puckett.

Mr. McBryde's business interests took them near Yuma, Ariz., where they had the opportunity of visiting one of the largest known lead mines, while Mr. McBryde investigated some mining claims.

They also visited the Indian reservations and other points of interest.

They had the experience on the desert of having government officials take part of their lunch from them before allowing them to go through certain sections. They were not allowed to carry eggs or any green food with them through certain territories, which rather inconvenienced them.

At the close of the program in the Greek theatre, Mr. Hirschler will give a recital of appropriate music on the great organ in the High school auditorium.

Everything is being done to insure the comfort of those who attend the services. There will be seats for all. Ample parking space will be arranged, with Boy Scouts as guides.

GLENDALE POLICE TO HOLD ANOTHER REVOLVER SHOOT

Hinted Eagle-Eyes Are Busy
Practicing For Event,
Birds For Prizes

Glendale is such a peaceable city that there is very little call for the use of revolvers by the officers of the local police force, yet about three or four times a year they get together and have a friendly "shoot" at the head of Central avenue, the prizes usually being turkeys, chickens and ducks.

Captain W. A. Loving is generally delegated to arrange the affairs, and feels that the time is about ripe for the officers to get together again. The last shoot was held at Christmas, when seven of the crack shots went home with their holiday turkey tucked under their arms.

There is no official record kept of the marksmanship abilities of the members of the force, so any one who attempts to pick out the best shot is laying himself liable to a lot of abuse on the occasion of his next visit to police headquarters. It is generally recognized, however, that Officers Wirtz and Schilling have the keenest eye and the deadliest aim of the old-timers.

Just what the new motor officers and the latest recruits to the patrolman staff can do, is a mystery, and some of the newcomers may go away with the birds in the next shoot to be held.

A regular revolver and rifle range has never been provided wonderful hospitality being extended the District visitors by the Tuesday Afternoon club and city of Glendale. Then expressing her pride and pleasure in being a resident of this beautiful city, she reminded a bit, saying that Glendale is now two-thirds as big as Los Angeles was when she came there in 1890. In closing she gave prediction of a brilliant future for Glendale, when she said, "So you see the possibilities of future growth for Glendale in a comparative length of time."

Representing as she said 70,000 California women, "working together for life's highest ideals and for universal peace," Mrs. John C. Urquhart spoke as state president.

"I like to compare the seven departments in our club work to the seven colors in the spectrum," said the state leader. "American club women are all weaving from the same great pattern, which is the plan of the General Federation. The warp and woof is the state."

"I like to think of the violet color which gives the depth of tone, as represented by the fine arts department; the indigo, which gives the depths of reason, and forms the background, as represented by the department of education; the blue, which is the spiritual color, as represented by the citizenship department; the green, which is the restful color, as represented by the legislative department; the yellow, which stands for light, as represented by the press and publicity department; the orange, which gives cheer and welcome, as represented by the public welfare department; the red, which stands for life and warmth, by the junior memberships; finally there is the white, which shines over them all, as represented by the international relations which completed the

Voters to Decide on Permanent Fish Pond

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—An initiative measure is to be placed on the ballot for the November election providing for the creation of a permanent fish reserve of the Klamath river in Siskiyou, Humboldt and Del Norte counties for a distance of 200 miles to the sea, it was announced today by R. D. Duke, attorney for the State Fish and Game Commission.

The commission charges that owing to the construction of a great power project at Ishi Pishi Falls on the Klamath river, the run of fish up the stream will be prevented. Only by the creation of spawning grounds for the salmon and other fish can the future of the river as a fisherman's resort be perpetuated, it was said.

AGRICULTURE CLUB

In agricultural club work 430 agricultural club contests were organized in the state during this last year, as compared with 310 in 1922. In these there were enrolled in 1923, 2882 boys and girls, as compared with 2352 during the previous year. Of these 1924 submitted completed records of their work, whereas in the previous year the records so completed numbered 1752.

Pleasing Program

Mrs. Burdette, in acknowledging her presentation, spoke briefly of the Biennial plans, and congratulated the convention on their work of the afternoon.

Mrs. Cable was also presented and declaring herself as "of the past and we must forget the past" paid tribute to present leaders seated with her on the platform.

Later an artistic and talented program was given by the music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club with Mrs. Warren Roberts, curator.

Songs were given by a quintette composed of Julia Robinson, Gladys White, Pearl Adair, Marjorie Yarek, Gretta Cordary, pupils of Virginia Freeman, with Mrs. Roberta T. Young and Mrs. Spencer Robinson at the piano; a Spanish dance by Viola Yorba; and song pictures, music by the Novin quartet, Miss Elizabeth Mottern and Mesdames Frank Arnold, A. M. Draper, J. W. Cotton, with Mrs. Perry Rogers at the piano. Appearing in the song pictures were Julia Pelley and John Glades and Cecilia Mae Fisher and Gould Moore, pupils of Pearl Keller.

Radio Waves Blamed As Birds Fall Dead

BURLINGTON, N. J., April 9.—Death struck swiftly into a great swarm of blackbirds as they were passing over the J. R. Lippincott farm, and hundreds of the little bodies, rendered lifeless in some puzzling manner, rained down among the fruit trees. Only part of the flock was affected. The best guess seems to be that some form of static electricity was responsible.

One suggestion is that conflicting radio currents in some fashion caused the death of the birds by electricity. Several New Jersey scientists will be asked to farmers in the Imperial Valley are dependent for their water supply runs for sixty miles through Mexico. Mr. Criswell pointed out that this condition ought to be remedied.

Following his address two reels of motion pictures of the Los Angeles aqueduct were shown, and one of the proposed Boulder Canyon dam. His talk was illuminative, and he presented some very startling figures.

He stated that the aqueduct would furnish water for 2,000,000 people, which, at the time it was built, was conceived to be far beyond the population ever obtainable by Los Angeles. But at the present rapid rate of growth the future development of the city must be looked after.

He gave interesting statistics regarding the efforts of the farmers in the Imperial valley to curb the floods from the Colorado river.

Mr. Criswell was accompanied by an orchestra composed of employees in the public service department of the city of Los Angeles, which played several numbers during the evening.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin attempted to secure an opinion from Mr. Reagan as to the best methods to be followed by the local authorities in persuading the county officials to expend the $30,000 that is still in the treasury for work on Sycamore canyon from the previous bond issue, to provide protection now for that section, but Mr. Reagan took the stand that $30,000, not all of which can be spent in Glendale, would not allow the city to accomplish much in the way of flood control at this time, and he urged that the bond for $35,000,000, to be voted on at the May 6 election, be supported to the limit, as that will provide $450,000 for Verdugo and Sycamore canyon work and $250,000 on other projects in this vicinity.

D. J. Black, chairman of the water committee, submitted a report in which he covered at length the present sources of supply of Glendale's water, the need for greater storage facilities and for the development of more water to meet the demands of the city for domestic use and also for fire protection. Storage facilities for 60,000,000 gallons should be provided, the report stated, and it also urged the need for a system to take care of the undeveloped lands in the hill sections north of the city.

Schools Are Equipped With Movie Machines

BERKELEY, April 9.—Seventy-five per cent of the schools in California are equipped with a motion-picture machine, according to Edward Mayer, secretary of the Visual Instruction department at the University of California. Facilities for film showings are being made in all new school buildings.

"The pioneer work is completed," said Mayer. "Recognition of this type of visual instruction by the National Educational association has forged our department ahead. During the past month we have rented over one thousand films."

Films for this department are purchased outright from film producers. Anything from folk stories to chemical films may be obtained from this department. Scientific pictures are in greatest demand.

COLLEGE WOMEN PLAN LUNCHEON NEXT SATURDAY

Noted Speaker Will Address Members on European Relief Drives

Completing a week that has been full of women's club affairs, the Glendale College Women's club will meet Saturday for a luncheon and program at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. One of the finest meetings of the year is anticipated.

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, who is speaking throughout the United States under the auspices of the European Relief committee, will be honored guest and speaker.

Reports on Budget

Preceding her talk Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, club president, will preside over a business hour, during which there will be reports on the club budget for next year by Mrs. Frank Parr, chairman of the budget committee, and full report of plans for the scholarship fund benefit Wednesday, April 30, will be announced by Katherine V. Sinks, chairman of the scholarship fund.

Another feature of the afternoon will be vocal solos by Miss Mildred Hughey, musical instructor in the Glendale schools.

Name Hostesses

Because of the wide appeal of Mrs. Rodman's subject, and because of her ability as a speaker and a representative of American women, the College club is hoping for a large attendance, and all members are urged to bring guests, if not to the luncheon, to the meeting later.

Mrs. Hugh Blue, an alumna of Alexandra college, Ireland, is to serve as chairman of the after-luncheon hour. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Claude Andrews, representing Oregon Agricultural college; Mrs. H. D. Schroeder, Western college; Miss Mildred Hughey, Mills college; Mrs. W. M. Litchfield, University of Washington; Dr. Irene Meyers, Yale university; Mrs. Fannie Sloan, New Mexico Agricultural college; Miss Hazel White, hospitality chairman of the club, and Mrs. R. L. Holland, courtesy chairman of the club.

Carlsbad Cavern in New Mexico is only one of the many caves known to be in the mountains there, but explorers have been unable to cover the entire state.

Cold-storage shipments by water have so increased that nearly 150,000 tons of frozen food were shipped through the Suez Canal last year.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND TOODLE'S WHISTLE

The days were getting warm in Woodland, for it was spring. Winter had gone, with its ice and snow, and Toodle Flat Tail, the boy beaver, looking from his house of mud and sticks in the pond, took a long breath of the fresh air.

"I am glad it is soon going to be summer," spoke Toodle.

"So am I," said Noodle, his brother. I think winter lasted long enough."

"Come, boys!" cried Mother Flat Tail, the lady beaver, "you have stood there in the door long enough, too. Run along to school or you may be late!"

Toodle and Noodle hurried off to the Hollow Stump School, taught by the Lady Mouse, but on the way Toodle stopped near a willow tree.

"Come on!" called his brother. "You haven't any time to stop and eat willow bark now." For beavers, you know, are very fond of willow bark. To them it is as good as lollypops are to you.

"I'm not going to eat any bark," answered Toodle. "I'm just going to get a stick and make a whistle at recess."

Quickly, with his orange-colored front teeth, which were as sharp as knives, Toodle gnawed off a willow twig, and, putting it in his pocket, on he hurried to school.

Noodle did not wait for him, and Toodle was almost late. But he slid into his seat just as the last bell was ringing.

"You were nearly late, Toodle," squeaked the Lady Mouse.

"Yes'm," answered the beaver boy, but he said nothing about the willow stick for a whistle in his pocket, for he thought the teacher mouse might take it away from him.

At recess, instead of paying tag with the other animal boys, Toodle sat in a corner and gnawed away at his willow stick until he had loosened the bark and made a whistle.

"Toot! Toot!" the boy beaver blew his whistle.

"Oh, that's a fine one! Let me whistle it!" begged Jackie Bow Wow.

"Give me a blow on it?" asked Noodle.

"Nope!" cried Toodle. "This is my whistle and no one can blow it but me!"

"You're selfish, that's what you are!" grunted Curly Twisttail, the pig boy.

"I don't care if I am," cried Toodle. He blew his whistle again and again, until, just before recess was to end, along came hopping Uncle Wiggily.

"Hello! What's this? Is it the 12 o'clock whistle blowing?" asked the rabbit gentleman, with a twinkle of his pink nose.

"It's Toodle's willow whistle," answered Billie Wagtail, the goat.

"Oh, so you have made a willow whistle. Uncle Wiggily took it and blew a loud blast on it. 'Toot! Toot! Toot! Toot! Toot!'"

The lady mouse teacher and some of the animal girls covered their ears with their paws.

Uncle Wiggily blew the whistle again and then handed it back to Toodle. The bunny twinkled his pink nose and said:

"I suppose I surprised you by blowing Toodle's whistle. Well, the reason I did it was because I saw the Fox coming. I saw him through the window. And I knew if I blew a whistle loudly the Fox would think there was a Police Dog here and the Fox would run away. So he did—there he goes!"

Looking through the window the children saw the frightened Fox running over the hills and far away. When he heard Uncle Wiggily blowing Toodle's whistle the bad animal thought it really was a Police Dog and off to his den he ran.

"Thank you, Toodle. Here is your whistle back," spoke the bunny. And then he told the children a story. I wonder if he knew that he saved Toodle from blowing the whistle in school? I wonder.

Anyhow if the rag doll doesn't try to jump through all the holes in the Swiss cheese and get so tired she has to go to bed, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the mud.

TOODLE'S WHISTLE

The bell rang, calling the little animals in from recess, and Uncle Wiggily was soon sitting on the platform with the lady mouse teacher. Miss Mouse talked to Mr. Longears, and, seeing that the teacher was not watching him, Toodle whispered to Noodle:

"I'm going to take my whistle out and blow it!"

"Better not!" warned Noodle. "You'll have to stay in after school if you do."

"Oh, teacher will never see me," whispered Toodle. "I'll blow it down behind my desk."

"Oh! Oh! You had better not," warned Noodle again.

But Toodle took out his whistle and he was, just stooping down behind his desk to blow it, right there in school, when, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily up on the teacher's platform, called out:

"Toodle, will you please bring me your whistle?"

The beaver boy was so surprised that he hardly knew what to say. Could Uncle Wiggily have seen him about to blow the willow stick? Toodle did not think so, and yet—

"Quick, Toodle—your whistle—I want to blow it!" cried the bunny uncle. This was more surprising than ever. The lady mouse teacher looked at the rabbit. What could it mean—Uncle Wiggily wanting to blow a whistle in school?

Toodle shuffled up with his whistle. Uncle Wiggily took it and blew a loud blast on it. "Toot! Toot! Toot! Toot! Toot!"

The lady mouse teacher and some of the animal girls covered their ears with their paws.

Uncle Wiggily blew the whistle again and then handed it back to Toodle. The bunny twinkled his pink nose and said:

"I suppose I surprised you by blowing Toodle's whistle. Well, the reason I did it was because I saw the Fox coming. I saw him through the window. And I knew if I blew a whistle loudly the Fox would think there was a Police Dog here and the Fox would run away. So he did—there he goes!"

Sweethearts Are Twins

Brother and sister, separated fifteen years ago, discover relationship on eve of wedding. Photo shows James and Josephine Buckley today and as they looked during their babyhood.

BOSTON, Mass., April 9.—Such are the tricks of fate.

James Buckley and Josephine Buckley met at a dance a year ago. They were naturally attracted by the similarity of their names. In the course of time James confessed his boundless love for her. "I love you, too, James," she told him.

They went to their parish priest to be married. He investigated their birth records—

And found they were brother and sister; more than that, twins! Fifteen years ago they were inmates of the same orphan's home. They did not remember being separated.

They are very happy now. "I'd rather have a brother than a husband, anyway," Josephine smilingly announced.

From Book Of Life

In "The Humanizing of Knowledge," James Harvey Robinson, American psychologist, says:

"Of all human ambitions an open mind eagerly expectant of new discoveries and ready to remodel convictions in the light of added knowledge and dispelled ignorance and misapprehensions, is the noblest, rarest and the most difficult to achieve."

"Rarest," Professor Robinson says; yet every man will tell you his is an open mind.

"There is no alleviation for the sufferings of mankind except veracity of thought and action, and the resolute facing of the world as it is when the garment of make-believe by which pious hands have hidden its uglier features is stripped off."

So believed Thomas H. Huxley, Englishman, who decided, "Time, whose tooth gnaws away everything else, is powerless against truth."

Ramble through the nine volumes of Huxley's works and you will find:

"There is assuredly no more effectual method of clearing up one's mind on any subject than by talking it over, so to speak, with men of real power and grasp, who have considered it from a totally different point of view."

"The improver of natural knowledge absolutely refuses to acknowledge authority, as such. For him, skepticism is the highest of duties; blind faith the one unpardonable sin."

"The man of science has learned to believe in justification, not by faith, but by verification."

"No delusion is greater than the notion that method and industry can make up for lack of mother-wit, either in science or in practical life."

"Nothing great in science has ever been done by men, whatever their powers, in whom the divine afflatus of the truth-seeker was wanting."

"In science, as in art, and, as I believe, in every other sphere of human activity, there may be wisdom in a multitude of counselors, but it is in one or two of them."

"Anyone who is practically acquainted with scientific work is aware that those who refuse to go beyond fact, rarely get far as fact; and anyone who has studied the history of science knows that almost every great step therein has been made by the 'anticipation of Nature'."

"Next to being right in this world, the best of all things is to be clearly definitely wrong, because you will come out somewhere. If you go buzzing about between right and wrong, vibrating and fluctuating, you come out nowhere; but if you are absolutely wrong, you must come of these days have the extreme good fortune of knocking your head against a fact, and that sets you all straight again."

"LEARN WHAT IS TRUE, IN ORDER TO DO WHAT IS RIGHT," is the way Huxley sums up the whole duty of man, for all who are unable to satisfy their mental hunger with the east wind of authority.

Dinner Stories

A young man whose gallantry was in excess of his pecuniary means sought to save the money required for the purchase of expensive flowers by arranging with a gardener to let him have a bouquet from time to time in return for his cast-off clothes.

One day he received a bunch of roses, which he at once dispatched to his ladylove. In sure anticipation of a friendly welcome, he called at the girl's house the same evening, and was not a little surprised at a frosty reception.

After a pause the girl remarked, frigidly, "You sent me a note today."

"A note! I? To be sure, I sent you flowers; but—"

"And this note was with the bouquet. Do you mean to deny it?"

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By B. V. STURDIVANT

For International News Service.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 9.—Monotony is one word that has been eliminated from dictionaries of Miami Beach—that place where millionaires grow tired working for rest.

If you want to fly, just say the word, for airplanes and sea-flying craft are at your disposal in abundance; if you want to get water thrills, a word will satisfy your desire, for there is everything from a rowboat to a steamship waiting for customers; on the other hand, if the winter visitor seeks amusement on land, it is there and plenty of it.

Strolls or drives along the sandy beach or among the cocoanut groves; dog racing, the Jai-Alai games, sight-seeing, expeditions, craning at a hundred places—it's all there, if a copious pocketbook is available.

One of the most popular pastimes of this season is the dog races.

These are conducted the same as horse racing. Greyhounds chase a mechanical rabbit around the track, and the winner usually pays good money to his backer.

Betting is done with both "bookies" and the mutuel machines. It is not uncommon for a dog to pay ten to one when he crosses the tape first. Just as in horse racing, between six and ten entries start in every race, and there are six or eight races every afternoon.

After the dog races and dinner the sensation seekers go out to the Jai-Alai games—the national pastime of Spain, which is a fad at Miami this season. These games—somewhat like lawn tennis, although they are played indoors—are played by Spanish or Cuban youngsters who have been trained in the art since infancy. Like the races, betting is done here, with both the book-makers and the mutuel machines.

In the "singles" the winner has been known to pay as much as thirty to one. Both men and women bet freely, and thousands of dollars change hands every night.

Then there are the water sports. There are long beaches, upon which thousands swarm from morning until night. One fad this season is night bathing and swimming.

Every contrivance imaginable for giving water thrills has been devised. One of the most popular for the "bathing beauties" is standing on a surf-rider fastened by a long rope to a seaplane.

In addition, there is dancing, dancing, and still more dancing. Every cabaret, dining hall and restaurant is equipped with dance floor and orchestra.

When American thrills play out there is a seaplane or a boat waiting to carry the visitor to Havana, only a few hours away.

The pleasures of Miami are characteristic of other Florida lawns from Jacksonville to Key West, with West Palm Beach and Daytona as the two other most popular resorts.

But this is not obtained for the mere asking. One must pay, pay, and then pay some more.

Who's Who

"The regulation of radio is the most complex and difficult problem in regulation that has ever confronted the government," Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, declared recently in an interview. "Two conflicting principles assert themselves. One is the right of inventors to earn a profit on their patents, and the other is the broad principle that nobody must be permitted to monopolize or control the means of public communication. I think that is a question for the courts to solve, and I am not a lawyer."

"I believe, however, that everybody should be permitted to send out anything they like. The very moment that the government begins to determine what can be sent it establishes a censorship, and almost immediately it will be called upon to discriminate between opera and jazz, fundamentalist and modernist sermons, and so on throughout the whole field of clashing ideas."

"What we must bear in mind is that this whole art is in a liquid state. Nobody knows where it will end. For that reason everybody practicing it should be given the widest possible latitude. The regulatory powers now vested in the Department of Commerce are totally inadequate and should be broken down completely but for the voluntary co-operation of the stations. About all we can do is to assign wave lengths and issue licenses. No license is issued for longer than three months, because we want to keep the situation tightly in hand. The White House could be revoked and creates other powers which I am confident would enable us to keep the ether open to everybody."

"You will recognize that if anybody should be able to have the exclusive use of a certain wave length he would have a monopoly on that part of the ether. That cannot be permitted. Of course, certain people have patents on the instruments by which you get in and out of the ether. Like all patents, they have certain rights which should be protected. That is a matter for the courts. It is also," he added significantly, "a matter for the exercise of broad vision by people in control of great industrial enterprises."

HERB. HOOVER

At Local Theatres

THE GLENDALE

"Women Who Give" shows at the Glendale theatre for the last times today, Reginald Barker's newest picture, an adaptation of Sarah P. McLean Greene's famous story, "Cape Cod Folks." In addition to Robert Frazer, the cast includes Frank Keenan, Barbara Bedford, Renee Adoree, Joseph Dowling and others as well known.

"Women Who Give" is a Reginald Barker production, adapted by Bernard McConville and J. G. Hawks with scenario by A. P. Younger. It is a Metro picture.

A wonderfully realistic shipwreck with a fishing schooner smashed to pieces on the rocks, a life and death struggle with a huge swordfish, the firing of a fisherman's cottage and tense dramatic moments too numerous to mention, all add to make "Women Who Give" a photodrama that no lover of motion pictures will care to miss.

THE GATEWAY

"Singer Jim McKee" with William S. Hart is the Paramount picture showing at the Gateway theatre today only. The story was written by Mr. Hart himself, and adapted to the screen by J. G. Hawks, one of the best known scenario writers. The story is a western, both modern and period.

It is a western of a distinctive kind. Rather than a thrilling riding and shooting melodrama, it depends upon a story of peculiarly intriguing quality, both from the standpoint of freshness of treatment and originality of twist.

The Hart production unit spent several weeks on location in the mountains, with headquarters in the picturesque town of Sonora—the actual locations of the story. The result is scenes that seem to breathe the very essence of the real wilderness.

Part is taking care of 18,000 insane people.

To Meet Cards; Start
Trip Tomorrow

By LARRY RAYMOND
Of The Evening News Staff.

The All-Southern California conference combined track team will leave Thursday for Palo Alto, where they will meet the Stanford cinder-path artists Saturday afternoon in the new Cardinal stadium. Coach Templeton's Cardinal varsity is about the highest ranking college track team in the country. They have a well balanced team, good in both the track and field events.

Outside of the Olympic tryouts May 24, the Stanford All-Conference meet will be the best exhibition of track anywhere on the coast this year. The greatest collection of star runners and field experts are to furnish the spectators with plenty of entertainment.

Twenty-nine in Squad

The first and second place winners in the conference meet last Saturday are entitled to a trip to Stanford with expenses paid by the conference. Twenty-nine athletes will make the trip. Occidental has the lion's share, sending fifteen men, Pomona has ten, S. B. U. C. two, and Caltech and Redlands each one. Coach Pipal of Occidental and Coach Nixon of Pomona are to be in charge of the caravan.

Cliff Argue, Phil Buckman and Bud Nash will compete in the century and furlong. In the 440-yard dash, Johnny Powers heads the list with Gardner of Pomona and Morey of Oxy also entered in the one lap race. Maxwell and Milliken of Pomona, are to do all the hurdlings for the team. Montgomery and Ellsworth of Oxy, and Drake of S. B. U. C. will run the 880.

In the mile, Nick Carter will battle with Bill Kerr of Stanford. Rojas of the Sagehen den will be the other miler. Then in the two mile event, Snyder will be the prominent figure, with Lavelle of Oxy keeping him company. Graham of Caltech and Roy Goodenough of the Tiger campus are the pride of the south in the pole vault. Both have cleared 12 feet, 5 1/2 inches. Frisbee leads in the broad jump army with Hall of Redlands a probable second. Eaton has the javelin mound all to himself, there being no competition in the north. Ridderhoff of Eagle Rock is his teammate.

In Field Events

In the field and weight events, Giles of S. B. U. C.; Ridderhoff of Oxy; and Merritt and Clark of Pomona, will display their ability with the hammer, shot put, and discus. The high jump candidates are Bradshaw of Oxy, Hill of S. B. U. C., and Hamilton of Pomona. Hamilton can do 6 feet, 1 inch, but was bothered with the turf at the Coliseum, taking a poor third.

The relay team will be four Tiger runners, Spangler, Powers, Buckman, and Morey. They set a new four man mile relay record of 3m. 23.2-10s., or an average of 50 1/2 seconds to the lap, in Saturday's conference affair.

High Schools Holding Prelims to Big Meet

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Nine City league high schools will be represented in the preliminary tryouts for the City league track meet, scheduled for Saturday, this afternoon at the Los Angeles Coliseum. Among the entries are some of the best performers ever to be seen in the City league ranks. Records may go by the boards, even in the tryouts, and Saturday, when all the athletes making the first grade gather, even better times may be recorded.

Vic Kline, sprint man of Hollywood High school, is one of the bright lights of the high school track stars. A score of others have also made good records this season, including Coggeshall, high jumper of Polytechnic.

Racers Preparing for Trip to Indianapolis

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Tommy Milton, Jimmy Murphy, Harlan Fenger, Bennie Hill and other auto racers of nation-wide repute expect to leave this city soon for Indianapolis, where they will compete in the annual 500-mile grind in the eastern city.

Many office boys are now worrying about the grave condition of their aged grandmothers, who are expected to die in about three weeks.

CALL MEETING TO TALK NEW LEAGUE

Manager Kerwin Proposes
Fast Summer Loop; Sox
To Play Buicks

Despairing of being able to form a Class C league this year, Frank Kerwin, manager of the Southern California Baseball Managers' association, has called a meeting for tonight at the Angelus Bowling academy in Los Angeles, where his office is located, for the purpose of forming what he claims will be the fastest summer league ever organized in the south.

The Glendale White Sox, Belvedere Gardens, Sawtelle, Catalina Island, California Colored All-Stars, El Segundo, and possibly Shell Oil, will be included. The required number will be made up with traveling clubs.

A fourteen-game schedule is proposed, and the managers will endeavor to get under way a week from next Sunday.

Buick Autos Sunday

Dropping back from the big-time to the semi-pro stuff, the White Sox, after their rout by the Indians last Saturday, will meet Dad Thielman's Buick Autos next Sunday at the home park.

The Buicks are one of the speediest of the local semi-pro outfits, and have won twenty-three out of their last twenty-five starts. Ford Tally will do the hurdlings and Eddie Markham the receiving for the visitors.

Frank Kerwin announces that Thornton, Heidler and Samide will do the heavy work for the Sox. Joe Lewis has been lost to these parts, and the catching work will now fall upon the blonde Denver lad. Thornton, although getting a poor start against the Indians last Saturday, has been pitching good ball, and should be able to stop the Buicks. They have a hard-hitting ball club, however, and may spring a surprise on the Sox.

Announcement states that Coaches Cozens and Works have the U. C. S. B. Grizzlies in good condition for the opening conference game with the Caltech Engineers. Such being the case, this should be a bear of a game.

Cliff Argue, sprint demon and all around man of Oxy, is rated among the nation's best. Oxy evidently can put up a good Argue-ment then.

Old Mare Pays Costs For Three Weeks' Rest

NEW YORK, April 9.—Things ain't what they used to be for the Old Gray Mare of State Island. The auctioneer's hammer has knocked her smack out of horse heaven up against the cold, hard fact of having to work for her hay and oats.

Capt. Richard Gray of the St. George police station said the mare, who was, and entitled to some consideration as a result, he couldn't hold off any longer. Three weeks in State Island's most palatial livery stable suite is—twenty-one days, and twenty-one days of such life is costly.

So Proprietor Halloran of Hal-loran's Horse Hotel, Stapleton, was told to trot out Nelly, the nag that has been growing fat on his fare ever since the police found her ownerless three weeks ago. Capt. Gray ascended a soap box and the bidding began by saying the nag had been grafting so long the police were tired of her.

Thomas Kiley, a contractor, finally got her for $95. A $50 board bill was paid and the remainder turned over to the police pension fund.

Rumors, Denials, Alibis

When the pennant is the laurel
And wreath, and players on the diamond
Man, aint it grand, whistling
Through yr teeth?
It's great to be alive.

Opening day looked like an "old hum" celebration week at Washington Park with "Radiant Red" Killefer, et al., smiling all over the place.

Red is very much tickled with his pitchers. They do the chucking and he does the chuckling, providing it is his turn.

Umpire Beans Reardon was handicapped in his opening-day performance. He appeared on the diamond with his "out" in a thumb heavily bandaged in a tumb. It seems that he sprained it one night trying to get Paris, (Mo.) on his crystal set.

Wheeler Bell, late of the Vernon Tigers, was out there bestowing his manly beauty upon the atmosphere in great gobs for the benefit of the sweet gels. Wheeler admitted that he had missed one meal during training season, but declared that he had played a double-header the next day.

Didja notice several familiar faces on the street cars and trucks here lately? The erstwhile phenoms of the training season have gone back to their regular jobs.

SEALS COP CLOSE GAME FROM PORTS

Pat Shea, Pitcher, Drives In Winning Run In Ninth;

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Pat Shea, pitching for the Seals, won his own game here yesterday from Portland when he drove in the winning run with a single in the ninth inning. The final score was 3-2.

Sixteen thousand people paid their way in, and were amply rewarded by a game of mid-season class. Both Gardner and Shea pitched good ball, and the decision was in doubt until the last man was out in the ninth.

SEATTLE INDIANS TRIMMED BY L. A. OAKLANDERS BEAT SALT LAKE CITY

Killifer's Crew Bow Before
Angels In First Tilt;
Score 5 to 1

The 1924 season of the Pacific Coast was officially ushered in at Los Angeles yesterday when the Angels trimmed Red Killifer's Indians 5 to 1, before a crowd of 11,000 fans.

Old "Doc" Crandall, starting off his twenty-first year of baseball on the mound for the winners, was the hero of the day. He kept the enemies' eleven hits well scattered and had something in reserve for the pinch hits which staved the Seattle game on its head. Doc should have had as much credit as Golvin dropped a foul from Red Baldwin in the fifth inning that he should have held, and the next ball Doc heaved to the former Angel catcher, Red put over the left field fence. This was the only Indian score.

Blows Up In Fifth

Frank Emmers, rookie third baseman for the Indians, cracked in the fifth inning with two out, two on and the score tied at 1 all. McAuley hit a soft roller to Emmers, an easy chance for a cinch force out, but the youngster missed it and let it roll into left field, and two runners crossed the plate, enough to win the ball game.

Vean Gregg pitched good ball, but his support was not as good as that accorded Doc Crandall.

The usual first game ceremonies were put on for the crowd. Mayor Cryer pitched the first ball, Jack Dempsey hit it and Sheriff Traeger was there to catch it if the champ missed it. Agnes Ayres, movie star, was handling the indicator.

TIGERS PILE UP RUNS ON SOLONS

Sacramento Gets Lone Score
While Vernon Players
Annex Seven

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—Bill Essick's Vernon Tiger Cubs bunched hits off Hughes in the fourth and ninth innings of the opening game of the season before 13,000 people here yesterday and grabbed the game, 7 to 1.

Frank Shea, the visiting hurler, kept the hits well scattered and outside of the first inning the locals were at his mercy. Charley Deal lifted one over the fence in the seventh.

LEGION TO OPEN FINAL DRIVE IN EDUCATION PLAN

Citizenship Campaign Enters
Last Phase, Meetings
in Many Cities

With sectional meetings arranged in various cities of the state, American Legion officials are ready for the final drive in their citizenship educational campaign which has been under way in many communities for some weeks.

State Commander James F. Collins, who originated the Legion's scheme to "sell" the obligations of citizenship to the men and women of California through the most extensive campaign of its kind attempted in California, is planning to attend the various meetings beginning with the one scheduled for Dunsmuir, Siskiyou County, and ending in San Diego.

Thousands Help

More than 2,000 speakers and workers from the ranks of the Legion and the various civic, fraternal and labor organizations, have been enrolled in the campaign to educate the people in citizenship.

State Adjutant Morgan Keaton pointed out yesterday that the Legion had a great part in securing the increased registration of the voters throughout the state for the coming presidential primary election as registration is one of the principal planks in the citizenship campaign platform.

The district conferences will be held to co-ordinate the work of the various legion posts, and of the civic organizations aiding in the citizenship movement.

Essay Contest

The American Legion has announced a national prize essay contest for American school children with scholarship prizes amounting to $1,500 together with medals for the best papers on the subject "Why Communism is a Menace to Americanism," according to information received by Morgan Keaton, state adjutant of the organization.

State Superintendent of Schools Will C. Wood will be asked to name three judges to pass upon the essays from California students.

The county school superintendents in each county of the state are to pick out three judges to decide upon the best essays to be entered in the state contest, and in turn in the national competition.

List of Prizes

The scholarship prizes in colleges to be designated by the winners are: first prize, $750; second prize, $500; third prize $250. First prize in each state will be a silver medal; second prize, a bronze medal; third prize, a certificate of merit issued by national American Legion headquarters.

The contest is limited to boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18, inclusive.

The county essay contest will close June 15 next and the state winners will be forwarded to Indianapolis, the Legion headquarters, by August 10th.

State Adjutant Keaton will issue further information on the contest within the next week.

MID-DAY SERVICE SPEAKERS CHOSEN

Pre-Easter Meetings to Be Held Each Noon Next
Week at Theater

The speakers for the noonday pre-Easter theatre meetings under the auspices of the Ministerial association have been secured and the musical features are being worked out to make this series of meetings especially helpful to the large crowds that will no doubt attend.

Services will be held each noon next week, except Saturday, and will last for one hour. The Glendale theatre has been donated by its manager. Friday noon the meeting will be held in the First Presbyterian church. Paul Carson will begin each service with a short organ recital each day and special music will be furnished by singers from the different churches.

The speakers for the week, who will appear in the order named, are as follows: Dr. Hugh K. Walker of the First Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, Rev. "Bob" Shuler of the Trinity Methodist church of Los Angeles, Rev. H. C. Culbertson, D. D., LL. D., of the Plymouth Congregational church of Los Angeles, Rev. M. Howard Fagan of the Wilshire Christian church, Los Angeles, and Dr. James A. Francis of the First Baptist church of Los Angeles.

Stocks, Bonds And Markets

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Trading, slightly below normal yesterday, regained its stride today with Los Angeles Investment leading the list of stocks, skyrocketing to $3.97 before 11 o'clock. It opened this morning at $3.95. Sales numbered nearly 2000 during the morning session.

General Petroleum was the leading trader of the oil group, selling at $42.60, more than a two-point rise over the opening yesterday. In Industrials, Laguna Land & Water common sold actively at $1.87. Southern California Edison and San Joaquin Light and Power both showed strength during the morning's trading.

United Eastern was an active mining stock. Sunnyside Mining was active at .03, a half-point lead over yesterday's opening. Mortgage Guarantee Company was inactive during the morning, with $112 bid and $117.40 asked. There were no trading in bonds this morning.

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—December barley, bid $1.65; asked $1.70; No. 3 yellow corn, bid $1.75, asked $1.76; No. 2 yellow corn, bid $1.80, asked $1.88.

Bearish Influence

By International News Service

CHICAGO, April 9.—Foreign crop news had a bearish influence both abroad and here today and gave grains heaviness that ended in lower prices all around. Then, too, publication of the Dawes report revealing that it amounts virtually to a re-writing of the financial provisions of the treaty of Versailles had a depressing effect. Wheat ended 3-5c to 3-4c lower; corn 3-8c to 1-1-3 off, and oats down 1-4c to 3-8c.

Market Closes Heavy

By International News Service

NEW YORK, April 9.—The stock market closed heavy today. The only feature of note was a drop of about 35 points in Woolworth, following the announcement of the split-up plan calling for the exchange of one old share for four new ones and the establishment of the new stock on a $3 annual basis.

Trading proceeded sluggishly throughout the final dealings, with the trend toward lower levels. Motors and steels continued under pressure. U. S. Steel lost 1-1-8 to 97 1-2; Crucible 3-4 to 53 1-4, and Gulf States one point to 70. Oils, rails, industrials and equipments continued under pressure. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Notes and Comment

March United States pig iron production was 3,461,132 tons, against 3,074,757 in February and 3,521,275 in March, 1923, according to statistics over the wires today of E. F. Hutton & Co.

Trading shows the same lassitude on the part of most of the trading community which has characterized the market during the past month and with the tendency in many quarters to do little until more light can be had on the political situation. California oils have felt that condition, as well as industrials, bonds and some of the miscellaneous stocks. Many people are also anxious to find out whether the predictions of a decline in general business, which are being issued by some of the economists, prove to be correct. This makes for a thin market in many issues which fluctuate on a thin volume of transactions.

Union Pacific's traffic outlook for this year is good, according to President Carl R. Gray. Lack of rainfall in California and Idaho have given some concern, he states, but that situation is

The little cloche refuses to be discarded. Fashion experts may announce in firm tones that it is gone, but back it bobs with its serenely confident air and milady gives up the struggle and claps it on her marcelled tresses and goes forth sure that never again in this world will she be permitted to wear a hat that allows her to show her hair or even her eyebrows. She is doomed for life to peer up from under the narrow brim of her cloche and trust that her friends will see enough of her familiar features to recognize her and that she will see enough of life from the shade to avoid being run over at last.

One thing is certain, that as long as these hats persist we must wear our hair over our ears or we might as well not have any. And so pitifully few of us can stand facing life with no hair showing. Our features demand the softening beauty of hair.

Having raved on for all this time about the cloche, let me introduce you to three charming models of the cloche and turban style that appear to contradict all I have been saying. On the left is a "symphony in brown"—a smart toque of shining straw, trimmed with bands of fluted ribbon and finished with a burned ostrich fancy. Ribbon is certainly having its day and long may it reign!

A vivid plaid ribbon trims the chic chapeau in the center. It bands the crown and perky bows extend on both sides. This is a particularly youthful looking little hat.

The more-than-ever popular black and white hat is featured on the right. Black satin is used for the hat and it is elaborately embroidered in white chenille—another of the season's favorite trimmings.

So many of the season's hats are high and that is a charming feature for the woman who is "just as high as a man's heart," as Orlando so gracefully puts it, but many modern girls are tall and of course slim, and this type of chapeau certainly increases these two attributes of the "female form divine."

Building Permits for April Total $198,298

The total of building permits issued during 1924 in Glendale, this morning passed the $3,000,000 mark. Over $40,000 worth of business at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, yesterday, brought the amount within a short distance of the third milestone.

The total at noon today was $3,001,507. Of this amount, $198,298 represents the building activity for April.

The following permits were issued recently:

G. C. Poulks, 4-unit court, 504 Dixon	7,000
Harry Tobias, 8 rooms and bath, 1714 Aard Eren	6,500
J. W. Switzer, two apartments, 1110 E. East Garfield	4,000
H. Dose, 5 rooms and garage, 1435 East Windsor	2,000
H. E. Betz, remodel, 1000 South Brand	2,000
R. R. Davis, rooms, 615 North Adams	2,000
M. Adella Wickert, remodel, 1441 East Harvard	1,200
William Roehen, additional cost, 1124 Linden	500
Mr. Hegley, repairs, 317 West Oak	125

improving fast. The Union Pacific's traffic year will at least be equal to that of 1923, he predicts. Way and equipment are in good shape. The car situation is satisfactory and the locomotive situation well above normal.

CHURCH MEMBERS CLOSE CAMPAIGN

Visitation Contest Declared
Best Means of Knowing
Congregation

A banquet attended by 350 members of the Central Christian church closed one of the most unique visitation campaigns ever attempted by a church in this community. The plan was adapted from the visitation contest put on by the Kiwanis club of Glendale last fall.

The membership of the church was divided into two "divisions," called "North" and "South," equally separating the membership into these two groups. Each division was separated into three teams of thirty-five families. The general manager of the campaign was Floyd Mercer, 319 North Jackson street. The division managers were O. L. Zook, 623 North Howard street, and H. A. Lathrop, 446 West Elk street. The captains of the teams were N. M. Abbott, 1365 Alameda street; C. F. Weaver, 365 Myrtle street; Frank Kaiser, 232 North Adams street; E. F. Davis, 314 West Broadway; R. F. Bolen, 517 South Belmont avenue, and E. M. Potter, 507 Raleigh street.

Many Calls Made

The plan was to have each member call in the home of the other members of his team and to secure the signatures of members of these homes after a friendly call. The purpose was purely for acquaintance. Most of the members were unacquainted with each other on account of the rapid growth of the congregation, and 281 cards were returned, with 13,935 signatures, showing that nearly 14,000 calls had been made in six weeks.

The entire evening was filled with the recital of "experiences" in the campaign, which was declared by the entire group assembled last night as being the most helpful enterprise the church had ever attempted.

A number of churches in and around Los Angeles are adopting the plan as it was used by Rev. Clifford Cole and the church members for the sake of interesting their people in one another and for fostering the spirit of fellowship.

The banquet hall was beautifully decorated and the feast was served by a committee of fifteen women of the church, under the direction of Mrs. B. F. Bolen.

Making Jersey Safe To Cost $4,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 9.—It will cost approximately $4,000,000 to transfer from Raritan Arsenal, N. J., to Ogden, Utah, and Savannah, Ill., the reserve stores of high explosives now stored in New Jersey.

This announcement is made by Secretary of War Weeks, who added that the War Department was perfectly willing to make the transfer provided Congress appropriated the money.

The War Department maintains at Savannah a proving ground connected with the Rock Island Arsenal and a considerable part of the reserve explosives at Raritan could safely be housed there. The bulk, however, would be transferred to the Utah base. While the explosives are more accessible to a large part of the army at Raritan, the experts see no fundamental objection to the transfer. Congress probably will be reminded that the cost of distribution from Ogden will be measurably larger than from Raritan on account of the longer distances involved.

Judge, 70, Ejects Four Rowdies From Court
Foot Power to Run New Flying Machine

NEW YORK, April 9.—Justice Joseph Aspinall in special term, part II, of the supreme court, gave a dramatic demonstration of the absurdity of that old law which says that when a man reaches the age of 70 he is too old longer to serve on the bench as a jurist. Justice Aspinall will be 70 years young this year, but he must step down from the bench.
He stepped down from the bench the other day to personally enforce his mandate directing four husky and powerfully built men to leave the courtroom. They had come in simultaneously with Harry M. Sacks, an optician judgment creditor, owing $285 and disbursements awarded to his former wife, Mrs. Jeanette Sacks, in her suit for absolute divorce.
Natives of China, India and Malay Peninsula use the soil for their banks, and it is estimated millions of dollars are thus stored away.

NEW YORK, April 9.—If the claims put forth for an invention by Lehman Well are fulfilled, every man of small means may soon find it possible to have his own private flying machine in which he may take to the air without other cost than the energy of his own foot-power, going daily to work or home at the speed of 2000 to 4000 feet a minute. Although Well says he has completed a perfect and practical working model of his one-man air stepper, which he exhibited to reporters, no machine has yet been built for an attempted flight.
The inventor is an accountant. His plane, he says, represents thirty years of experimenting in his spare time to develop a machine in which he may fly himself on the same basic principle as that of the bird upon the wing.

DEMONSTRATION IS BEING MADE OF GAS RANGES

Hoffman & Pixley Announce Public Invited to See Buck in Action

Special demonstrations of the celebrated Buck's gas range are being featured by Hoffman & Pixley, plumbers and appliance dealers of 108 South Glendale avenue, in observance of Gas Appliance Week, now in progress. Several of the ranges, believed by this firm to be the very finest manufactured anywhere in the country, are on display and give a good idea of what a superior range can be.
"The Buck's gas range combines every modern convenience that makes cooking a pleasure," declares Elmer Hoffman, one of the proprietors. "Years of service have proven the quality of the article and housewives everywhere are rapidly turning to it for use in their kitchens. The manufacturers have worked out several new features, including a patented oven construction, extra roomy and serviceable burners and other parts which add to the convenience of the housekeeper."
Bought For Good
"There is logic in choosing a Buck's sanitary porcelain enameled or black finished gas range. The choice of the range must be governed by the fact that the selection should be necessary only once in a great number of years. A gas range not qualified to give a long length of service falls short of its purpose. The logic in choosing a Buck's gas range is based upon the fact that it will give you this service."
"They have been developed to the present high standard of perfection during a period of over seventy-six years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of stoves, ranges and furnaces. The present efficiency has been attained through these many years of experience."
Visit Display Rooms
"Visit our display rooms at your first opportunity and ask us to show you this line of gas ranges. This courtesy is extended without any obligation whatever."
"The Buck's range comes equipped with the Robertshaw oven heat control and cooks perfectly in a minimum time, and at a low cost. The parts are all porcelain, which assures the user that rust will be absent for an unlimited number of years. We give free delivery, installation and service with every range, and the factory backs up every claim with iron-bound guarantees."

500,000 Railway Men to Get Wage Boost

CHICAGO, April 9.—An agreement has been reached between the Order of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen on one side, and thirty-one western railroads and subsidiaries on the other, whereby approximately 500,000 railway workers will receive five per cent wage increase. The agreement, which the roads have agreed to sign, will increase their payrolls nearly $50,000,000 annually.
With the new wage scale, passenger trainmen will receive an increase of 24 cents a day, freight trainmen 30 cents a day, conductors 33 cents a day, and brakemen and switchmen 26 cents a day.

GLENDALE PLANT TO BE ENLARGED

Concrete Brick & Tile Co. to Increase Facilities to Make Stone-Tile

Announcement was made of the completion of extensive improvements to the plant of the Concrete Brick & Tile company at 440 South San Fernando road, Glendale, where the product known to builders as Stone-Tile is manufactured.
According to Robt. B. Johnston, president of the company, these improvements greatly increase the output of the plant and its ability to meet the growing demand for the products in the territory adjacent to Glendale.
Stone-Tile is a patented process of making concrete hollow tile by the wet-mix poured system—or as it is sometimes known, the plastic system. It is claimed that the tile thus produced are both fire and damp proof. Also, they are standard in size and lend themselves in construction to the execution of artistic decorative ideas.
"We are glad to have any readers of your paper," said Mr. Johnston, "visit our plant at any hour of the working day. We know they will enjoy the visit and it will not put them under any obligations."

LOCAL ACTRESS IN TITLE ROLE OF NOTED PLAY

Mrs. Mildred Brewster as 'Ramona' in Production at Hemet Bowl

The people of Hemet have chosen Mrs. Mildred Brewster of Glendale to play the title role in "Ramona," which will be produced there April 10, 11 and 12, in the Ramona bowl, under the personal direction of the author, Garnet Holme, director of the "Pilgrimage Play" and many other plays and pageants. The play is given with the permission of Miss Virginia Calhoun, owner of the dramatic rights of the Helen Hunt Jackson novel.
Mildred Brewster is the wife of Harold L. Brewster, head of the dramatic department, Glendale Union High school. She is well known throughout Southern California as an actress and dramatic reader of much charm.
Scores Big Hit
It was by demand of the populace of Hemet that she was chosen to play the title role in "Ramona," following her splendid interpretation of Channing Pollock's play, "The Fool," before their Women's club in January.
Victory Jory of the Pasadena Community Players and the Fine Arts Theatre is playing the role of "Alessandro" in "Ramona." The bowl where the pageant is given lies in a beautiful little canyon overlooking the Hemet valley and the San Jacinto and Tahquitz mountains. Last year the play drew 10,000 people in three days and it is anticipated that even more will witness it this year.

Launches Attack on Roosevelt in Senate

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senator Dill, Washington, who is trying to force the resignation of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt because of his connection with the naval oil leases, launched an attack on Roosevelt in the Senate. Dill said Roosevelt's use of marines to drive squatters from Teapot dome was outrageous.

BURBANK

SET SCHEDULE IN CLEANUP OF CITY

All Available Trucks and Men Being Used For Spotless Burbank

Burbank is in the throes of a municipal clean-up—not the political variety so popular elsewhere but a clean-up just as muddy. The street department, in short, has all available trucks and personnel engaged in the prosaic occupation of hauling away rubbish, clutter, silt and debris of all descriptions, wherever encountered.

The committee of the Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the clean up campaign of which Margaret D. Yale is the chairman, desires that all residents of the city do their part in carrying out this program, their part being to see that their premises are cleaned up and the rubbish placed where it will be easily available for the city truck men.

Announce Schedule
Following is the schedule on which the trucks are operating:
Wednesday, District No. 3.—North of boulevard from Orange Grove west to Palm.
Thursday, District No. 4.—Above the boulevard, Palm to Walnut avenue.
Friday, District No. 5.—Walnut avenue to Southern Pacific tracks and the entire Grismer district.
Saturday, District No. 6.—South of tracks from Turkey crossing to Magnolia.

On Monday, District No. 1 was tackled, Lake street north to the San Fernando boulevard, from Magnolia to Alameda avenues; and on Tuesday, District No. 2 came in for a face-washing, above San Fernando boulevard, from Orange Grove avenue to the east city limits.

Annual Election
Following annual election of officers, the new elders of the Burbank Presbyterian church are: H. E. Bruce, Fred Taylor and J. T. Thorburn who take the places of those retiring, W. E. Smith, Dr. David Thomson and J. T. Comber.

Of the six trustees elected, three were re-elected, and they are: Dr. McGuire, W. G. Schmelzel and Tom Loyd. The three newly elected ones are: B. E. Chivens, W. E. Moore and Louis A. Roth.

A board of deacons was created and the three chosen for this title are: Richard Hill, Dr. Attwater and W. W. Jordan. J. J. King was elected treasurer, while J. F. Thorburn is the financial secretary.

A double quartet composed of Messrs. Fulton, Riley, Thomson, Sly, Russell, Rosell, Smith and Attwater, accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Bryant on the piano, furnished some delightful music, and as a closing number and one that was very effective, all joined hands and sang: "Blest be the Tie That Binds."

SECOND LECTURE ON SALESMANSHIP
Public Is Invited to Hear Lon J. Haddock's Talk to Realty Men

The second of a series of eight weekly lectures on salesmanship will be given at 7:30 o'clock this evening, 2 North Brand boulevard, by Lon J. Haddock, of the Haddock-Nibley company, realtors. Mr. Haddock's topic this week will be "Salesmanship and Personal Efficiency."

Removal of the course from the Egyptian Temple on Verdugo road, where last Wednesday's talk was given, was necessitated by reason of the large attendance, it is stated, there being fifty-seven registrations.

The lectures are free and the public is cordially invited.

Warn Passengers of Pullman Card Sharps

CHICAGO, April 9.—Organized gangs of card sharps operating on railroad trains all over the country are responsible for the Pullman company posting bulletins in its sleeping cars: "Strangers who invite you to play cards generally are too lucky for the average mortal! The warning is emphasized by a picture showing the corner of a man's pocket. A Pullman company official says there is more robbery by card sharps today than at any time in the last twenty-five years.

EAGLE ROCK

PLAN TO FINANCE

EASTER SERVICES

Name Committees to Start Work on Details of Sunrise Ceremony

Arrangements whereby the customary sum of $250 for sunrise services on Easter morning will be subscribed by residents of this community have been instituted by Secretary Donnell G. Montgomery of the Chamber of Commerce.

In years past, the sunrise service has brought hundreds of persons to Eagle Rock for Easter services, and in that way many of them have later become residents, according to Mr. Montgomery, who pointed out that because of annexation it will no longer be possible to get the $250 fund from the municipal exchequer.

Name Committees
A finance committee chairman was appointed, Rev. William Middlemass of the Presbyterian church filling that position. A program committee, consisting of S. W. Allen, chairman; Messrs. R. E. Rose, Young, and Messrs. Kraus, Crawford and ministers of every church, or anyone they care to appoint, was appointed by O. J. Root, president of the Chamber of Commerce, acting as chairman.

The following chairmen of the committees were appointed: H. H. Maxson, transportation; W. H. Dorrance and P. Ducker, lighting, and George W. S. Reed, publicity.

Mrs. Rely volunteered to secure the use of the rock.
The following organizations were represented: Realty Board, C. W. Young; Chamber of Commerce, O. J. Root; Kiwanis Club, J. Kraus; Masonic order, M. T. Lee and H. S. Bourne; Congregational church, S. W. Allen and Mrs. Young; Women's Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. A. G. Rely; Eagle Rock Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. J. C. Reiter; Dahila Heights Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Boyce; Eastern Star, Mrs. M. T. Lee; American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Hensley, and the Eagle Rock Sentinel, Miss Eve Richardson.

Players Reorganize
The little theatre movement in Eagle Rock has been advanced several notches by reason of the reorganization of the local Community Players organization, headed by Mrs. Elgie Lowry Fischer, who will direct their productions.

A large representation was present at the reorganization meeting, held at the home of Mrs. B. F. Butler on Caspar avenue. Officers have not yet been elected.

The Young Artists' Club has been organized, with Margaret Stuckwisch as president; Laurel Margaret Dust, vice-president; Genevieve Dale, secretary and treasurer, and Amber Young, chairman of the lookout committee. Mrs. Fred D. Knillans, who recently came to Eagle Rock from Wisconsin, will direct the chorus. She is experienced in this work and enthusiastic over the local club. It will meet on the second and fourth Fridays of each month. On April 25, Mrs. A. R. Rose will be the hostess. A program of semi-professional nature will be put on by the girls every three months. Those who are interested are invited to be at the next meeting.

SHRINERS' DANCE

AT OAKMONT CLUB

Event Tomorrow Night to Be Gala Occasion; Many Surprises Due

The Oakmont Country club will be a gala place tomorrow night, April 10, when members of the Glendale Shrine club and their "ladies fair" will break bread with visiting Shriners, and trip the "light, fantastic toe" to the enticing strains of the Hollywood-landers' orchestra.
Pep, snap and color will characterize the event, and there will be whistles, caps and parasols for favors. Dinner starts promptly at 7 o'clock, and will be interspersed with dancing, states President P. J. Hayselden of the Glendale Shrine club, who, with Charles Hahn, secretary, and H. C. Vandewater, have been working very hard to make this an affair long to be remembered.

High-class outside talent has been imported for the occasion, and many surprises are hinted by Mr. Hayselden, who states that over 200 reservations have already been made. "The night of nights," the announcement reads—and the committee declares that is putting it mildly.
